Three Prodigal GI's Permitted To Leave Reds

Two Ask Return To United States, One Picks Japan

TOKYO, June 18 (AP) — Red China announced today five former U. N. soldiers who chose to remain in Red China after the Korean War have been given permission to leave the country but that only two had asked to go home.

Those who wanted to go home, a Peiping radio broadcast said, included two of three Americans permitted to leave. The other American chose Japan. One Belgian chose the United States and another Belgian chose Laos.

There was no hint when the five would be released.

The broadcast said the 17 other former American soldiers who chose life in Red China could leave too if they wished.

These are the five Peiping said had been given permission to leave:

Cpl. Lewis W. Griggs, 406 Kickapoo St., Jacksonville, Tex.

Cpl. Otho G. Bell, 494, Rt. 5, Olympia, Wash.

Cpl. William Cowart, 505 Benton St., Dalton Ga.

Roger Devriendt, Westvlaanderen, Belgium.

Louis Verdyck, Antwerp, Belgium.

Griggs, Bell and Devriendt, the broadcast said, asked to go to the United States. Cowart asked to go to Japan and Verdyck to Laos.

The five were not present at a gathering of all other former U.N. soldiers at which the Peiping government's decision was announced.

Asked by a correspondent why the five were not at the meeting, Peiping quoted a Chinese Red Cross spokesman as saying they had been invited but had not come.

"There were free to come or not," he said. "But reporters can

Top Polio Experts Recommend Shots During Summer

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—Top polio experts recommended today that mass Salk antipolio injection of children be continued through the summer months.

The experts, including U. S. Surgeon Gen. Leonard Scheele declared that the risk of causing paralysis in a person who already had the disease was less than the vaccine's total preventative effect.

The decision was seen as a go-ahead signal to resume the stalled inoculation program in the summer, when the incidence of the disease is the highest.

The experts' meeting today was called by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis specifically to decide if an injection would provoke paralysis in a person already infected with polio.

"The slight hazard of provocation causing paralysis is insufficient to limit the injection of poliomyelitis vaccine even in the presence of a rising incidence of poliomyelitis in the community," a statement issued by the conferees declared.

The statement covered six pages and was issued after six hours of deliveration by 30 medical and public health specialists, it continued.

"Those present at the meeting agreed that the total preventive effect of the vaccine in a period of rising poliomyelitis incidence should be much greater than the possible hazard from the provoking effect of the injection."

It added that the benefits to be gained increased with the severity of the polio epidemic, "since a proportionately large number of paralytic cases would be prevented during the period of the epidemic."

Among the scientists attending today's meeting were Dr. Jonas Salk and Dr. Thomas B. Francis, of the University of Michigan, who headed the study of last year's Salk field trials.

It was learned, meanwhile, that an "advisory committee" on distribution of the vaccine would meet Washington next Wednesday morning.

Dr. Malcolm Phelps, of Reno, Okla., a representative of the American Academy of General Practice, told a newsman that Wednesday's meeting was called "to arrange for a fair and equitable distribution of the vaccine."

First Big 4 Minister To Arrive

Molotov Holds Spotlight As He Completes Journey To Tenth Birthday Of UN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov held the spotlight today as world diplomats waited hopefully for new signs that the cold war tension is finally ending.

The first indication of Russia's next move is expected Monday night when the Big Four foreign ministers meet to map plans for the meeting of their chiefs of government in Geneva July 18.

Molotov, although unusually genial on his 3,000-mile trip across the country, has given no hint that he has anything new to offer, but there still was an air of optimism here as a result of recent Soviet moves on the Austrian treaty and on the Yugoslav peace mission.

Molotov was the first of the Big Four foreign ministers to arrive for the U.N.'s 10th anniversary session June 20-26. Apparently in a jovial mood, the Soviet diplomat arrived by train at 1:08 PDT—3:08 p.m. EST and transferred to a limousine for his headquarters at suburban Hillsborough. He was accompanied by a staff of Four Hurt Here When Two Autos Crash Into Train

Four persons were injured, three of them seriously, when two autos in which they were riding collided with a Missouri Pacific railroad switch engine early yesterday morning. The collisions occurred about a half hour apart.

Injured were J. M. Rabb Jr. of 119 Kansas Street, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cannon, 3900 Gerald Street, and Teu Jones, 25, College Friend, Desiard road, Monroe.

According to reports Rabb was driving south on Jackson street about 2:30 a.m. yesterday, when his panel truck collided with the switch engine which was traveling east across Jackson street. At 3:05 a.m., apparently while the engine was still blocking the street, a second car, driven north of Jackson street by Cannon, also collided with the engine.

Rabb was taken to Wright-Bendal Clinic, where late yesterday the attending physician reported that he was found to have suffered a lacerated right arm and a back

Cat Comes Back— Six Days Later

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 18 (AP)—Taffy, a cat, was back home today after spending a hungry six days wrapped in a merchandising box here.

Mrs. John Naugle of Bellefontaine, 60 miles northwest, returned a floor lamp to a local department store last Saturday. The box containing the lamp was routed to a service building, then to a receiving and adjustment room, and eventually to the store's lamp department.

When it was opened Thursday, there was Taffy, limp and apparently dead. But the cat soon revived and lapped up several saucers of milk. Yesterday tabby was returned to Mrs. Naugle.

The Bellefontaine woman described her cat as "extremely curious" but couldn't explain how the pet got in the box.

Brochure Outlines Area's Industrial Growth Potentials

Copies of a 53-page brochure outlining the industrial potentialities of the Monroe area were formally presented Saturday morning to mayors of the Twin Cities, the president of the Ouachita parish police jury, and a representative of the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

Jack Howard, president of the Monroe Area Industrial Development Corp., presented the brochures to the officials on behalf of the industrial corporation.

Receiving them were Monroe Mayor John E. Coon, West Monroe Mayor J. Allen Norris, Police Jury President A. E. Montgomery, and Grayson Guthrie, first vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce.

They were presented at a meeting of the industrial corporation office. Several members of the industrial corporation board of directors were present.

A result of three months work by the industrial corporation, the brochures are designed, according to the foreword in the book, "principally for the benefit of industry representatives seeking to find a location for main or branch

Nationalist, India Feud Seen In U. N.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18—UP—A full-scale feud between Nationalist China and neutralist India loomed Saturday as delegates from the major powers began arriving for the 10th anniversary meeting of the United Nations.

Nationalist Foreign Minister George K. C. Yeh said he was "anxious" to talk with India's acting Ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon, who has recently visited Communist China and Washington in an attempt to "mediate peace."

"I'm so happy to see Mr. Menon and tell him what I think of his so-called efforts for peace," Yeh said.

"I don't know what Mr. Menon is working for. If he's a double agent, what's he shooting at?"

Yeh said he was anxious to meet also Menon "personally" after the historic UN conference ends on June Monday.

Three-Day Sea Strike Ended On U.S. Coasts

CIO Unions Get New Contracts With Employers

NEW YORK, June 18 (AP)—A three-day strike which tied up many passenger cargo ships on the Eastern Gulf Coast ports ended today with new contracts between seamen's unions and employers.

The unions are the CIO Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. and CIO American Radio Assn., which came to terms with shipping firms early today, and the CIO National Maritime Union.

The latter had signed a new contract yesterday.

Members of the three unions were ordered back to work immediately, freeing several big passenger liners for quick sailings.

First was the American Export Lines Independence, headed for Gibraltar, France and Italy. Next were three Grace Line vessels destined for Caribbean and South American ports.

Wages were not at issue in the union negotiations. The talks concerned various pension and welfare benefits, in which the seamen won increases except in the case of their demand for vacation periods doubling their present 30 days.

Additionally, the National Maritime Union obtained an unemployment compensation system finance by employers and providing a modified form of guaranteed wage.

The three unions, together with the AFL Assn. of Masters, Mates & Pilots, still are involved in a dispute with tanker operators.

Negotiations were broken off yesterday without a resumption date, but union spokesmen voiced confidence the differences would be ironed out in time.

An all-night bargaining session brought the contract agreements between the National Maritime Institute, representing some 40 shipping companies, the passenger and dry cargo vessels, and the marine engineers and the radio men.

Although the NMU already had settled it kept its members off the job pending outcome of negotiations by the other two.

Wife Of District Attorney Fatally Shot From Alley

LA JARA, Colo., June 18—UP—The young wife of a district attorney's investigator was ambushed and slain on the front porch of her home early Saturday by a single bullet from an assassin's gun apparently meant for her husband.

The woman, Mrs. Virginia Arrigo, 33, mother of three small children, was killed as she and her husband, Jerry, 32, started to enter their home at 1:30 a.m. as they returned from a party.

Police Chief George Lipscomb said he believed one man armed possibly with a .38-cal. revolver fired at least nine shots at the Arrigos from a darkened alley.

He said he believed it was a local affair and that the slayer was trying to kill Arrigo as investigator for District Attorney John Ina Green, probably as the result of some old grudge.

Arrigo was not hit but he told police he heard at least eight shots from the alleyway at the rear of the couple's home. The three children, Jerry, 4, Virginia, 3, and Samuel, 18 months, did not awaken. The house at the time was a packed with relatives who had been caring for them while their parents were at the party.

Lipscomb said he found a set of footprints in the alley. He said the shots were made in the middle of the night when Arrigo and his wife would be returning from a party. Arrigo is a former deputy sheriff who has been a private detective recently. He has been active in the investigation of the death of Mrs. Arrigo's father, Dr. Ralph Cannon, who died under mysterious circumstances in 1951.

Arrigo has been active in the campaign of Democratic Gov. Edwin C. Johnson to oust Green from office. Green is a Republican.

Arrigo is a former deputy sheriff of Conejos County. He and his wife have been married about seven years.

Church Reports Freeing Of All Priests Jailed

Negotiations To Avoid Civil War Begins With Navy

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 18 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron put the army in full command of the Argentine nation today. It clamped down a tight control on the people under a state of seige in the wake of Thursday's bloody naval-air revolt.

At the same time authorities of the Roman Catholic Church—from which Peron has been excommunicated—announced that all priests arrested in the seven-month church-state conflict have been freed from jail.

(Radio Farroupilha at Porto Alegre in Brazil said Saturday afternoon that the Argentine army minister, Gen. Franklin Lucero had taken over effective control of the Argentine government and had started negotiations with navy forces to avoid civil war and bloodshed. The station said its information came from Damonte Taborda, exiled former deputy in the Argentine Congress, who claimed to have radio contact with friends still in Argentina.)

Among the priests freed, church information said, was the Rev. Brian Rafael Fontanella, who was arrested May 21 on a charge of printing and distributing anti-Peron pamphlets.

Police had considered Father Fontanella and his two assistants at the Church of the Miraculous Medallion their key prisoners in a nationwide campaign to wipe out underground distribution of church literature.

The two assistants, Rev. Olindo Marinas and Rev. Ignacio Riasol were believed already to have been given their provisional release pending trial.

It was not known how many priests were freed. Eighty-five have been arrested since last November but most have been

Police Slay Ex-Convict In Wild Tenement House Battle, Wound Comrade

BOSTON, June 18—UP—An ex-convict was killed and his one-eyed pal was wounded Saturday during the firing of hundreds of shots in a wild tenement house battle with police. Two policemen were wounded.

Patrolman Walter A. O'Rourke, who was wounded in the shoulder, shouted to neighbors who peered out their doors at the first shot to "lock your doors. There's going to be more shooting."

During the gun battle which followed, ex-convict Walter M. McTigue, 28, of nearby Cambridge, was killed and his one-eyed ex-con pal, Croce "The Pig" Centofanti, 28, was rounded up in the attic. A second policeman also was injured.

The battle began when police went to question the pair about a $500 no-hit car theft and gun battle.

In the battle there was no gunplay between police and the pair. Instead, police threw tear gas bombs into the second floor apartment where the pair were holed up with hundreds of rifle and gun shots.

Lieutenant Detective Francis X. Hurley, spokesman for Commissioner Thomas Leonard, said Mrs. Estelle Brayton of Somerville, who was getting up when the first shot rang out

"I went to the window and saw a car across the street. The police car was also reported. A police officer who went to the door of the house and called for someone to open up was met with a shotgun blast through the door. The officer was not hit.

Mrs. Brayton said she recognized Centofanti as a frequent visitor to the house. She said he had been in the company of the dead man shortly before the police arrived to question them.

Centofanti was held in connection with the shooting of Arthur Robles, a New York taxi driver, who was wanted for murder, shot it out with 125 police for 90 minutes in a Harlem apartment before he was killed. He wounded two policemen.

Graham Speaks To Biggest Swiss Prayer Meeting

ZURICH, Switzerland, June 18 (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham Saturday addressed the biggest prayer meeting ever held in Switzerland.

More than 60,000 persons assembled in two stadiums, 200 yard apart to hear the North Carolina preacher.

Graham was to speak in the Hardturm Football Stadium, but as many people arrived to hear him that the overflow was packed into the Letzigrund Stadium, which was equipped with a public address system tied to the Hardturm footing.

The Southern Baptist preacher opened the two packed stadiums through interpreter Wilfried Zoge. He paused after every sentence to let the interpreter tell the crowd in German what he had said.

Parents Happy Sons Changed Minds

MONTICELLO, Ark., June 18 (AP)—The mother of an American soldier who deserted his country to live in Red China said today she was happy that he had decided to leave the Communist nation.

Asked about a Communist radio broadcast that her son, Cpl. William A. Cowart, 22, had elected to go to Japan instead of returning home, Mrs. Chester Green said, "I'd rather see him go anywhere than stay in China."

The 42-year-old housewife said she had no idea why Cowart chose Japan instead of the United States. Asked by a newsman if she thought the corporal might be trying to avoid prosecution by military authorities, she declined to comment.

Cowart was one of 21 American prisoners of war who refused repatriation when the Korean conflict ended. They chose instead, to embrace communism and live in Red China. In addition to Cowart two other Americans now have decided to cast with the Reds, but they want to come back to the United States.

Earlier today, when it first was reported that Cowart would leave China, Mrs. Green told reporters that she couldn't get any hope up" that her son would come home. She said she received a letter from Cowart yesterday, and that he had not mentioned anything about leaving China.

"There have been so many reports . . . well, I just don't know what to think," she said. Mrs. Green declined to say the contents of Cowart's letter, but said it contained "confidential" [illegible]

Cowart joined the Army at Dalton, Ga., when he was 16 years old. His mother moved to Monticello after Cowart entered the service.

Democrats Seek $200 Million More For Jets

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Democratic senators today planned a new attempt to increase the Eisenhower defense program. They want to add 200 million dollars to the funds for supersonic jet fighters.

Pending before the Senate is a 34-billion defense money bill, slated for passage Monday.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said the added funds for fighters probably would be proposed by Sen. Symington (D-Mo), former secretary of the Air Force.

Under pressure from Democratic senators, the Defense Department recently asked a 736-million-dollar boost in funds to speed up production of B52 jet bombers. The request was approved by both Democrats and Republicans on the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The move came after some legislators contended that recent Soviet air displays indicated that Red air power was challenging U.S. supremacy.

No opposition to the increase for B52s is expected in the Senate but the extra 200 millions for fighters is certain to cause a dispute. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, top Air Force commander, and civilian leaders of the Pentagon testified they do not need more money for fighters.

They said fighter production had been under study for more than a year and that if added funds could be used they would come back to Congress later.

Most Senate leaders expect the big money bill, which accounts for more than half of all government spending, to win Senate approval about the way it came from committee.

Some challenge is expected in the Senate to administration plans for reducing the Marine Corps and the Army during the next 12 months.

Sen. Chavez (D-Mex), floor manager for the big bill, told the Senate he voted against the Marine cutback in the committee but now would support the committee's decision.

That calls for a strength of 193,000 in the Marines by July 1 next year, a decrease of 12,000.

Planned Army strength a year from now will be 1,057,000, a decrease of 87,000.

'BUILT-IN' SERVICE

Back in the 1920's, it is estimated a housewife had to spend 5½ hours' kitchen time preparing a day's food for a family of four. Today, she can do it in 1½ hours. Groceries bought today come with "built-in" maid service. This extra service costs money. Processing, transporting, and marketing now take more of the family food dollar than farmers get for growing the food. Nevertheless, the family grocery bill does not take any greater percentage of the net family income than it did 30 years ago.

interview them at their hotel if they wish and if the men are willing."

The broadcast did not say whether such an interview was attempted.

There was no mention in the broadcast of 11 American fliers captured late in the Korean War when their B29 bomber was shot down. Four jet pilots also captured late in the war were released last month and now are home. It was recalled here they reached the border at Hong Kong only a few hours after Peiping radio said they would be released.

The Far East Command here had no information other than new reports on Red China's action and declined comment.

The three Americans to be released were among 23 POWs who refused repatriation after lengthy "explanations" at Panmunjom. The two Belgians, the Red broadcast said, had "crossed over" to the Chinese-Korean side and chosen to stay in China.

The Americans face an uncertain future if they return home. A joint statement by the State and Defense departments Thursday said any of the former soldiers who come back will be held accountable "for any wrongful act" they may have committed. In Washington today a Defense Department spokesman said each individual case would be investigated closely if th men actually return to American control.

Concerning the prospective release of the five men, Peiping said:

"We are engaged in going through the formalities for their exit and making all necessary arrangements. Upon completion of these formalities, our five friends will leave China."

Lin Shih-hsiao, vice secretary-general of the Red Cross Society of China, read the announcement of the government's decision to the former U. N. soldiers. He said the Red Cross would continue to give those who choose to remain "all possible assistance and care."

"At the same time," he said, "if any one of you wish to leave China, please tell us at any time. We will certainly do everything to help him in accordance with his wish."

He wished the five who are leaving "a smooth future."

Lin commented upon the "many difficulties" the men are likely to encounter. He said China "is an economically backward country" and does not have the living standards to which the men were accustomed in their native lands.

He pointed, too, to the language barrier and the difference in "the customs and way of life" of the Chinese people and those of Europeans and Americans.

At the close of his statement, Lin invited comment from the men.

Lowell D. Skinner, of Akron, Ohio, told the group he was employed at a paper factory in Shantung.

"If I myself wish to go, I can go," he was quoted as saying. "But I am satisfied."

He added that he had experienced difficulties at first but "after more than one year in China, I believe that I have made a good decision."

Samuel D. Hawkins, of Oklahoma City, said he was studying at the Peoples University and was planning to get married in a few months. He said he was making rapid progress in learning the Chinese language.

Richard E. Tenneson, of Alden, Minn., told the group his mother had not been able to come to China.

"Around Thanksgiving Day last year my mother tried to come," the broadcast quoted him. "She asked me what the chance would be. I checked with the Red Cross what arrangements could be made. Within five days I got a reply that she could stay in China."

He said the Red Cross told him it would pay all her expenses.

But, he said, the U. S. State Department had refused her permission to go to China.

In addition to Hawkins, Skinner and Tenneson, the Americans remaining in Red China are listed as:

plants which may operate successfully and peacefully."

Combining pictures and words, the brochure covers "almost every phase" that may be of interest to prospective industries, Howard said. These phases include Monroe's location, history, type of government, information on climate, hospitals, tourist accomodations, transportation and communications, civic clubs, cultural activities, financial situation, trade area, labor, principal manufacturers, utilities, resources, education facilities, and others.

In remarking on the brochures, Howard praised the cooperation of the various government agencies, the schools, the Chamber of Commerce, and the work of Walter Koch, executive vice president of the industrial corporation, and the corporation survey committee in making them possible. Jack Gaines and Grady Hicks are co-chairmen of the survey committee.

"We feel that this brochure is a vehicle we can use to go out and do the job," Howard said, comparing them favorably to brochures put out by other cities. He explained that previously Koch has had to give interested industrial representatives the information in individual letters.

Howard explained to the assembled group of officials and board members that industries would be queried by letter first and if they appeared to be interested the brochures would be sent to them.

He said Koch has already sent out 900 such letters and has received a surprising number of replies from various companies. As an example, he read from a letter in which a company said it had no present plans to expand it this direction but might do so in the near future.

The brochure also explains that a $100,000 fund has been pledged by local persons to finance and construct a factory for "responsible companies on a lease - amortization basis."

Compiled as one of the first steps in a 14 - point program of action for the industrial corporation, the brochure is printed in loose - leaf form to allow for any changes which may be necessary in the future.

Howard also explained at the meeting that, while the brochures would be free of charge to interested industries and groups, the cost of printing prohibits giving them free of charge to local residents. He said a fee of about $2.50 would be charged for the books, a price lower than the actual cost of printing.

Some 500 of the books were printed initially.

Dorothy Leavy, in the New York Herald Tribune, sounds a "Memo to Parents" that is timely today. Here it is:

"I would like to say to parents:

"Get on the ball. Those children of yours have souls for which you are responsible. You've seen what has happened to other people's children. You still have time. For you there's a chance to escape heartbreak and self-recrimination. Seize the God-given opportunity.

"If your children are of preschool age you are fortunate. The molding of character will be easier. Unrelieved severity isn't the answer, either. Just be really and truly good parents. And with the fine family life that must inevitably result you will have gone more than halfway toward the development of wholesome personalities in your children. . . Then clinch the training by ascertaining that they attend instruction in the church of which you are or should be a member.

Playgrounds and the rest are fine but they are not indispensable when parents play their true roles. Mother and Dad are highly important. Dad especially in the role that he is to play."

When asked how Father's Day should be celebrated, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Wash., founder of the day, gave the same formula she voiced 45 years ago. It included attending church, a festive dinner at home, a little gift for Dad, and "Some tender words you've longed to say to him." Also in this age in which we live, add a good movie and assemble around the TV for a favorite family program.

Robert E. Hanna, Jr., chairman of the Twin Cities YMCA Camping committee, announced recently that the YMCA Day Camp for younger boys will open Monday. One hundred thirty-eight boys are registered for the first period which runs June 20 through July 1. Day campers will enjoy such activities as swimming, boating, fishing, nature lore, crafts, educational trips, singing, riflery, archery, devotionals, and camp outs, under well trained Christian leadership.

One overnight camp out will be held each two week period. The camp out for the first period will be held Friday night, June 24 at Camp Alabama, near Choudrant. Reservations for Day Camp are still available on a limited basis for the second and third periods, July 5-15 and July 18-29. Parents interested in registering their sons may call the YMCA at 5-2353.

Church Reports

turned loose after brief detention.

Two priests were arrested today and police explained that priests and nuns had been asked to go to police stations for "protection" against Communist elements and had then been transferred to private homes for safety.

Surrounded by his three armed forces chiefs, Peron today set up his headquarters in the Army Ministry.

The army smashed the ill-fated naval-air gamble on armed revolt which cost 360 dead and nearly 1,000 injured and wounded. Today it took charge of all security forces including federal police, national gendarmes who guard the frontier, and maritime port police.

It forbade gatherings of more than two persons and put reinforced patrols in battle dress and field kits on guard over public buildings, power stations, churches, banks, embassies and strong points.

For the first time since the revolt, so far as was known, the President conferred with the leaders of the pro-Peron General Confederation of Labor.

In a 48-minute speech to them Peron strongly defended himself against the church's charges of persecution, and ridiculed complaints that he was a tyrant.

"We exert the tyranny of the people, which perhaps is the only tyranny there is, when there is tyranny," he exclaimed.

Meanwhile, two pro-Peron newspapers, Noticias Graficas and La Epoca, for the first time named the alleged leaders of Thursday's revolt. They were listed as Rear Adm. Anibal O. Olivieri, minister of the navy when the fight broke out but since replaced, Vice Adm. Benjamin Gargiulo and Ear Adm. Samuel Toranzo Calderon both of the marines.

The newspapers said Gariulo had committed suicide when he became convinced the revolution had failed.

The whereabouts of Olivieri and Toranzo Calderon was not stated.

(A radio amateur in Santiago, Chile quoted the Argentine news agency Saporiti as saying Olivieri and Toranzo had been arrested in the Navy Ministry, and that Gargiulo committed suicide there. The report said Olivieri had been tried by court-martial.

(All press dispatches from Buenos Aires are subject to censorship.)

Private civilian plane flights were banned throughout the naprohibited only in the Buenos Aires area. Regular commercial flights were banned in the Buenos Aires area "except at the express order of the air force" but were permitted in the interior.

Court Appearance For Chiropractor Slated At Ruston

RUSTON, June 18 (Special) — Dr. Tracy Smith, local chiropractor, has been ordered to appear in District Court here June 27, to show cause why a preliminary injunction should not be issued to restrain him from further practice. Smith is charged with violation of the state medical practices act, allegedly having practiced internal and external medicine without a medical license.

However, according to Smith, the law suit is part of a state wide program by the Louisiana State Board of Medical Examiners to drive the chiropractors out of practice. He said chiropractors throughout the state evidently have been summoned to appear in court in answer to similar charges, but only one such case has yet been tried. The case was in Winnfield, but no ruling has been made by the court, he said.

A check of the Monroe area failed to reveal any such action there.

Smith, who has been practicing in Ruston since 1950, said chiropractors do not feel that their work in manipulation of the spine constitutes the practice of medicine. Chiropractics is based on the manipulation of the spine only for the removal of nerve interference, he said.

He denied that he has at any time prescribed any medicine or practiced any internal medicine.

Molotov

more than fifty aides and advisors.

He had nothing to say beyond a brief greeting, which his interpreter translated from the Russian. He said:

"Thank you for this cordial welcome to San Francisco. Allow me to convey through you greetings to the people of San Francisco where the United Nations was founded."

Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold MacMillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay will arrive by air tomorrow following their two-day strategy meetings in New York.

President Eisenhower will arrive tomorrow night to deliver the opening address to the 60 U. N. delegations Monday afternoon. Reports reaching here indicated that the President might make an important policy speech rather than a simple speech of welcome.

He told U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold in a special message that he considered the speech a "responsibility." Diplomatic quarters said that the President originally had been reluctant to come to the U. N. session because he had understood that he was expected to do nothing more than greet the delegates.

Hammarskjold, meanwhile, was en route to San Francisco by air coach. He was expected here tonight.

The Western attitude toward the forthcoming Big Four "summit" talks in Switzerland was indicated in New York by the French foreign minister, who said the Western nations are going to Geneva with open minds, hopeful of finding proof to support Russia's recent good will measures.

He added, however, that the West wanted to see more before they were convinced.

"We would be naive," he said, "to believe that the signs are the proofs."

Pinay told a news conference that the Western Big Three had reached an identity of view and that he was "very confident" about the outlook for peace.

There was no indication as to how extensive the Big Four talks in San Francisco would be. So far only the Monday session had been arranged. Some diplomats believed this might be enough to set up an agenda for the Geneva meetings. They pointed to the fact that Russia has not made much trouble in recent meetings on procedural questions such as time, place and agenda.

Molotov is expected to confer with a number of small countries while he is here. India's roving diplomat, V. K. Krishna Menon, also is expected to be active behind the scenes in trying to ease the tension in the Far East.

Sources close to Menon expressed the belief privately that he had made some progress in his immediate aim, which is to establish direct contact between the United States and Red China. This was not amplified., however, and could not be confirmed from other sources.

injury. However, he said, there was no indications of serious injury.

The Cannons and Jones were take to St. Francis Sanitarium.

The physician attending refused to tell the extent of their injuries, saying it was illegal for him to do so. His only comment was that they were all seriously injuried. However, according to unofficials reports Mrs. Cannon suffered fractures of both arms and both legs and a head injury. Her husband was said to have received a broken hip, multiple bruises and possible internal injuries. Jones was said to have suffered a fracture of the left leg and right foot.

H. H. Adams, 45, of 3207 Lee Avenue, was engineer o the train. Willie Nettles, 3807 Dick Taylor street, was the fireman.

U. N. Powerful Instrument Says Delegate Lodge

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today the United Nations is the most powerful instrument in the world for influencing world opinion, and this has been a tremendous force for peace.

The chief American delegate to the U.N. reviewed a wide range of global problems on the eve of ceremonies in San Francisco next week marking the 10th anniversary of the international agency launched in the wake of World War II.

Speaking on a radio network—CBS-Capitol Cloakroom—he said two of the original assumptions on which the U.N. was founded have failed to materialize. The first was that Soviet Russia and the United States would work together in unity, he said, and the second was that the U.N. would issue legally binding orders for action to keep peace.

Still, Lodge said, the U.N. "has played a decisive part in preventing wars from spreading." He cited six potentially explosive flare-ups which he said have been settled through the U.N. without global war: Troubles in Greece, Iran, Kashmir, Israel, Indonesia and "of course, the aggression in Korea."

Experience thus has proved, he said, that "world opinion is a much more powerful weapon for peace than legalistic devices."

Without elaborating, Lodge said he is "optimistic" about prospects for release of 11 American fliers captured near the end of the Korean War and still imprisoned in Red China.

"Not a day has gone by," Lodge added, that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold hasn't been planning and working toward the release of the airmen. Lodge said Hammarskjold's work had a great deal to do with recent release of four other fliers, announced after talks in Red China by India's roving ambassador, V. K. Krishna Menon.

As for the upcoming Big Four talks by President Eisenhower and other Western leaders with Russian Premier Bulganin, Lodge said "I think it will be a matter of finding out whether they (Communists) really want to do business on some of the problems of the world. It isn't going to be like Yalta and Potsdam at all."

By this he apparently meant he expects to talks to be more exploratory and general and not produce the sweeping specific decisions reached at the two famed World War II conferences.

Lodge said it's always possible "that when you get to the top level you can find out more." He said he was "optimistic" about the Big Four talks because of the strength of the free world and President Eisenhower's leadership.

Correspondent Describes Argentine Revolt Action

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES, June 18 (AP)—This is how Argentina's revolution began:

Like a graceful bird, a plane came out of the grey sky overhead.

People sauntering along this cosmopolitan capital's streets gazed upward.

Then boom!

The ground rumbled. Walls quivered.

The crowd around me was bewildered for a moment. Then panic swept through the streets.

The bloodiest revolution in recent Argentine history was under way.

I was walking beside Metropolitan Cathedral Thursday, strolling to the Government House—Casada Rosada—where President Peron has his offices — when the bombs began falling.

Two more explosions.

We now realized these were bombs falling from that plane in the sky.

I ran up the street behind the Cathedral toward the quaint looking Casa Rosada — Pink House.

People crouched, hugging the grey stone walls of buildings as trucks loaded with men in khaki whipped by. These were the attackers.

The trucks screeched to a halt behind Government House. Troops scampered out, rifles raised. They raced four abreast down the avenue toward us.

The crowd retreated around the corner to keep out of range.

Guns crackled. There were screams, yells, more gunfire.

One man in the crowd fell to the pavement. Friends grabbed him shouting "Ambulancia! ambulancia" (ambulance).

Then soldiers dashed across the wide boulevard and into the side entrance of the Pink House to reinforce government guards inside. Black smoke spiraled up from the explosions.

The battle raged for nearly two hours. Civilians trying to scamper across streets surrounding the Pink House dropped, caught in the cross-fire.

One man who appeared to be about 55 walked untouched through the spattering bullets, till the way across the open street beside Government House to the Plaza de Mayo. He yanked a white handkerchief from his pocket and held it up. He grinned. And he made it safely.

Two other men scurried out of a bank. Both were hit. Both fell. Medical corpsmen picked them up.

A woman wearing a Peronista pin on her black overcoat shrieked that she wanted to help fight.

A man seized her, blurting "You aren't armed."

But scores of others, also unarmed, crowded around the Pink House, shouting "Peron, Peron", nestling in corners and behind columns.

Two tanks rolled up through the plaza. They were greeted with cheers. Their machine guns spurted.

Crowds of Peronista labor followers swarmed toward the attacking forces. They carried Argentine flags. Some civilians had rifles.

The force converged on the glass front of navy headquarters, three blocks away. Victory seemed in government hands.

But out of the grey sky again roared rebel planes in a new surprise raid on Government House.

Bombs splattered death and destruction. Smoke enveloped the scene like a black fog.

This was the terrifying moment when most people died.

Panic spread again, seizing those who had just been tasting victory.

Police swarmed in, routing the crowds out of the plaza and chasing them up side streets.

Bodies strewed the ground. Ambulance sirens wailed.

The planes vanished. The panic passed. Navy headquarters surrendered. The battle seemed over. The curious came out of hiding places.

Hundreds soon were gawking at the bodies, the bomb holes, the debris.

And then the rebels struck again. The attacking planes came in for one last run over the crowds now strolling around the Pink House lawns and streets.

The crowds scurried for cover. They dug frantically under army trucks. They huddled under tall trees.

Machine gun bullets cut tracks in the pavement.

The planes roared away. The people crawled from cover.

The battle was really over now.

Banking School Of LSU Graduates Its First Women

BATON ROUGE, June 18—UP—Louisiana State University's school of banking graduated 115 bank officers from 17 Southern states Friday, including the first four women ever to be graduated from a banking school.

The women are the first to complete LSU's three-year school of banking course. Similar courses are given at three other universities but none admits women.

The trail-blazers were Katherine Ferguson, vice president of a Leesville bank; Kathryn O. Bell, assistant vice president of a Jacksonville, Fla., Bank Treva Ann Moore, cashier of a Jacksonville Beach, Fla., bank and assistant cashier Jo Ann McBay of a Lucedale, Miss., bank.

Prayer Answered; Vaccine Runs Out

STUART, Fla., June 18 (AP)—Mrs. Willard Brady, driving her son Danny, 7, home from vacation Bible school, noticed he hung his head down on his arm.

"Got a headache, son?"

"No, mom, I'm praying."

"Praying for what, Danny?"

"That I won't have to take that polio vaccine shot. The needle hurts."

An hour later Danny was in line to get the shot. He stood in fast place. Finally it came his turn.

Not until then did the nurse realize she had miscounted the number of injections available. She was one short.

"Sorry," she told Danny, who responded with a big smile.

Retarded Children's Group To Meet Here

The Northeast Louisiana Association for Retarded Children will meet 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the West Monroe Agriculture Building, it was announced yesterday by Ike Hamilton, president of the group.

Featured speakers at the meeting will be Dean William M. Smith, both members of the faculty of Northeast State College, Monroe.

All persons who are interested are invited to attend, said Hamilton.

Special Education Clinic Organized By N. E. State

More extensive service will be offered by Northeast State through the newly - organized Special Education Clinic, President Lewis C. Slater announced Saturday.

The clinic is being sponsored by the State Department of Education and school systems in this area.

Purpose of the Special Education Clinic is to provide services for exceptional children in the surrounding parishes. The program will not attempt to supplant any agencies now operating, but to enrich the services for children in the ten school systems cooperating in the movement, college officials explained.

Staffing the clinic will be a child psychologist, clinical psychologist, speech terapist and reading specialist. These specially trained persons will work with the school systems in problems pertaining to their individual fields of training and skills.

School systems which are cooperating in the plan of special services are the City of Monroe and the following parishes: Ouachita, Richland, Madison, East Carroll, West Carroll, Morehouse, Caldwell, Franklin and Caldwell.

The child psychologist will work with teachers, parents and children in solving problems of exceptional children.

Serving as a team - mate will be the clinical psychologist, who will assist in evaluating the educational abilities of children and interpreting their emotional growth.

The area speech consultant plans to cooperate with speech correctionists or teachers in the parishes in handling problems. She also will serve in diagnosing and recommending measures for serious cases.

Cooperating with supervisors, teachers and parents on reading problems of children will be the function of the reading specialist. She will work toward diagnosing reading difficulties and suggesting methods of remedying such weaknesses where cases are serious.

These four services which the clinic will offer are to be handled on two levels: the preventatives and developmental; the therapeutic - by working with teachers and parents in the ten school systems.

A House Committee Stands Rebuked

The National House of Representatives Thursday administered a deserved spanking to its powerful Appropriations Committee, the worst rebuke of its kind in many years.

The Appropriations Committee, controlled by a bipartisan group of public powerites and radicals, had ripped and slashed and warped the appropriations bill for public works approved by the Eisenhower administration and the Director of the Budget.

Public attention was focused mainly on the Committee's refusal to approve a $61½ million item for construction of a power transmission line connecting the Dixon-Yates power plant, now under construction, with the Tennessee Valley Authority electrical network; and the Committee's vote to divert this money to a TVA steam generator at Fulton, Tennessee—a project which Congress repeatedly has refused to authorize.

But of greater significance, by far, was the Committee's arbitrary action in slashing right and left at the authorized projects for flood control and river and harbor development—eliminating many, and paring funds for others down to the bone.

Many of these projects are vital to the preservation and progress of the South and Southwest. Every one of them had the approval of government engineers, the Administration and the Director of the Budget.

The House, in a test roll call vote, beat down the Fulton steam generator proposal 198 to 169. Then it restored the appropriation for Dixon-Yates and TVA transmission line.

But that was only the beginning.

It added $2,450,000 in available construction funds for the Ferrell's bridge reservoir in East Texas; restored a $5,000,000 item for the Texarkana Dam, reinstated a $1,260,000 item for the Port Allen—Indian Village cutoff, which the Committee had deleted; and upped the total of funds for the Lower Mississippi to the budget figure of $50,885,000—which includes $2,225,000 to start construction on the desperately needed Old River diversion project in Louisiana.

The Committee had slashed Lower Mississippi appropriations to $46,675,000.

The House restored the $1,263,000 appropriation for the Algiers cutoff, which had been shaved by the Committee to $750,000. This project is an important link in the development of the Intracoastal Waterway.

The $1,372,122,800 measure as finally passed by the House restored more than eighty million of funds deleted by the Appropriations Committee, but fell short of the President's budget request by nearly a half-billion dollars.

This episode is a classic example of the blind, illogical and unpredictable thinking emanating from our so-called "ultra-liberals" in America today, as exemplified by their majority on the House Appropriations Committee.

This fuzzyminded aggregation of left-wingers, viewing the nation's economy through the distorted spectacles that Karl Marx manufactured more than a century ago, has become locoed on the subject of public power. It is quite true that in Marx's day, public power was in its infancy, and in most parts of the world, unborn.

Yet before Marx was born, the duty of the federal government of the United States to build navigation and flood control works, and reclamation projects, and public highways, had been established beyond doubt. Here was a great field in which government was virtually unchallenged, where private industry was not essentially a competitor—the field of public domain.

The House Appropriations Committee, however, in a vindictive and inexcusable defiance of public usage and custom, and the public welfare, voted to strike down vast river and harbor improvements, and great reclamation projects that would benefit all the people.

Apparently its main interest was to try to jam through Congress the TVA steam generator project, which Congress has refused to approve; and to block the Dixon-Yates project, which Congress has sanctioned.

Happily, the House, largely through the energetic efforts of the Louisiana delegation, overturned this socialistic action, and by its votes soundly rebuked the committee majority.

Helen Keller

from The Vicksburg Evening Post

June 27 is the seventy-fifth birthday of Miss Helen Keller whose entire life has been a source of inspiration to the world. At the age of 19 months she suffered an illness that left her without the powers of speech, sight or hearing. In those days such a child seemed doomed to a life of helplessness, of complete dependence on others. Miss Keller, with the aid of her teacher Anne Sullivan Mace, has proved us all wrong.

By reaching across artificial barriers of isolation between herself and other people Miss Keller crashed through her own personal barrier and inspired millions to do the same. With no exception since he has "looked" on the face of the great leaders of the world, and she talked with humble people in every land.

Her life has been a lesson in what a human being can accomplish and her message has been of equal benefit to the unhandicapped and the handicapped.

Plenty Of Proof

Last year the electric industry again proved that it can be trusted to provide us with all the power we can use.

At the beginning of the year the Shreveport customer was added for each dollar spent for construction or for service a new worker went to the very day of the increased output. Only another fifty million dollars—a 100 million dollar investment—and the company's 400 million dollar worth of generating capacity was put into operation. During the year more new generating capacity was added than ever before.

The taxpaying, investor-owned companies spent $2,800,000,000 on construction in 1954 and have budgeted the same amount for 1955. For the fifth straight year their taxes were their largest single item of expense, totaling $1,447,000,000.

Who says we need socialistic electricity?

Parish Detention Home

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I am writing to thank your newspapers, on behalf of the Ouachita Parish Detention Home Committee, for outstanding service in connection with the tax election for a Detention Home in Ouachita Parish.

We considered your publicity informative and factually correct, and we believe your creative work in helping to mold opinion in the parish had much to do with putting the tax over. You created a widespread feeling that support of the measure was an obligation toward the youth of Ouachita Parish, which caused our citizens to want to fulfill that obligation.

We feel that you have gone beyond the community's expectations from their local newspaper; you have made a real contribution toward the solution of a difficult problem of your community.

For this, our entire committee tenders our thanks.

A Few Words Of Praise

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Wherever the Evenings establish a newspaper they give their readers the best in news and literature. Your editorial page, especially on Sunday, is among the best editorials in the nation. Your editorials can be trusted by your supporters to help them find their way through this deceitful world of today. Your columnists are reliable and the finest in the nation. You are not selfish; you share your editorial page with your readers. Some of these letters come from all parts of the nation and many of them are the finest to be published in any periodical. The Times really gave Monroe a modern news paper when they established the Monroe Morning World there.

There is an opening for an up-to-date newspaper in Ruston. Education comes first in Ruston but new and modern industries are moving to Ruston which has made it a city. A city without a modern newspaper is like a ship without a rudder. Nothing to steer it forward. Your up to the minute news, local, national and international, and your fine impartial editorial page is something Monroe should be proud to call her own.

'Jump' Music Of Today

Palmyra, N. Y.

Editor, Morning World:

I wonder why the musical taste in this country has decayed so much that people have thrown over pretty music for the jump of today. Only country and classical music is melody in the older style. Most of today's singers, music and orchestras are plain terrible. Today singers and music do not sound in the romantic style as they did not really in the forties.

People let the leaders in all businesses do what they want today and they follow or agree with them without a mind or a will of their own. There was freedom in the entertainment field not many years ago when anyone could get any type of music and program in this country on the standard orchestra, live or recorded, and in other countries abroad, or on short wave. There is no choice of music or programs in this country today and the radio have only one band. Old music, operas and other entertainment which have stood the test of time are still remembered, but today's music and movies are for this particular time and after a while will be forgotten. Older styles of music are still favorites around the world. Take the Mambo for instance. It is really quite from China and starts about 1951 and is just about dead in that country to go. It does that today's music is not worthy to be called music like the music among the many people of today.

Teenagers Are People, Too!

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

[illegible] we were a machine or something which didn't belong here at all. We are speaking to the newspaper columnists and radio commentators who try to "thrill their readers or listeners with sensationalized versions of 'the horrible things this generation is doing.'"

The word, "teenager," has a growing resentment against it. They think the word means juvenile delinquency. We are people, and we want to be treated like people. Just because we are in a certain age bracket called the teens, it shouldn't be emphasized to the exclusion of everything else. We are all agreed that it is time people stopped thinking of something bad or funny every time they hear the word, "teen."

One boy who recently finished school and is keeping his mind on the draft had this to say: 'Sure, you hear about teenagers doing everything, from breaking school windows to hot-rodding. But it seems everybody forgot the word teenager when the medals were being passed out during the war. Maybe you should forget the word teenager altogether, and think of us as people, as human beings. Teenagers are people too."

So parents, next time junior asks for the family car to take his best girl out, give it a moment's thought before you say no.

Grevemberg-ism

Oak Grove, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Not long ago, I read an editorial that commented very favorably on the Grevemberg record, as Superintendent of the state police.

Will you kindly print these few remarks of one who has a different viewpoint. I do not challenge Mr. Grevemberg's integrity or the sincerity of his actions, for I am not personally acquainted with him or well enough informed to pass judgment, but I will give him the advantage of all doubts. That is one quality that Grevemberg does not have. For he transmits to his troops a ruthlessness that is very close to gestapo-ism.

In your editorial, you comment on the great number of arrests. This is Grevemberg-ism. You do not know how many of these arrests were unjustified and even illegal. You do know that the courts operate very closely with the officers and convictions usually follow, which in many cases are unjust and work many hardships on the convicted ones, their families and their friends.

I know what I am talking about, for a state trooper illegally arrested my oldest boy. I am sure this is no isolated case. I am certain that in this great record of arrests, many injustices were done.

But in addition to this personal experience, I resent the Grevemberg idea of taking over local law. I do not uphold vice in any way, but I will say very strongly that if a choice between gambling and its allied vices or gestapo-ism is made an issue, that respectable family men and decent citizens would go hand in hand together to defeat the forces of fear and hoodlumism.

Fluoridation Is Badly Needed In Monroe

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Finally I read your editorials with much enjoyment. It was misfortune to miss one however, on a subject which greatly interests me. I was told that your editorial on fluoridation was a very good one.

It is true there are some physicians and dentists opposed to this health measure. It is just as true however that these constitute a pitiful minority—an infinitesimal few. Please bear in mind, however, that physicians and dentists are not research men and in truth are not the ones best qualified to give advice on such a subject.

For the past 10 years a certain very important matter of record. All, without exception of the recognized health organizations and there are many endorse and recommend fluoridation.

Farmers At The Crossroads

Monroe, La.

Editor, Morning World:

We all know that we are living in the age of machinery and mass production.

There is machinery of all kinds being produced to speed up production and save labor and to bring about a more efficient age for us to enjoy. We can well afford to say that the machine age is a wonderful age and a blessing to us all, but let's take a look under the machine age, of the agriculture problems confronting us.

In the old days a man could take a mule or horse, and if he was a good farmer he could by hard work cultivate 18 or 20 acres, but he no longer works that way. (Not us using horses and mules) but he uses improved farm tools and modern inventions. Now, one man and one tractor can easily cultivate forty or sixty acres of land and do it with ease. The mules and horses have been set free on the farms, and they are no longer needed. Many farmers have been set free too on the farms and like the mules and horses they have been set free. No longer any need for them on the farms. In other words, because of the machine age they have been forced off the farms. The work they formerly did on the farm is being done with machines. Most of the cotton land owners and their tenant farmers and share croppers they were welcome to leave and seek employment elsewhere. They did leave the farms by the hundreds of thousands — most of these people found their way into the towns and cities — to find there was no work, no jobs. How are they going to make a living? You see, people must have jobs and be able to earn some money to buy the necessary things of life. What are the city folks going to do in providing factories and bringing industry into the towns and cities so these displaced people who were forced off the farms can have jobs? People need more buying power and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

'Not A Luxury,' Father Says

First American Family To Live In Underground H-Bomb Shelter Emerges

By KYLE THOMPSON

HOUSTON, June 18 —UP— The first American family to live three days in a tight, underground H-bomb shelter made ready Saturday to come out and tell Civil Defense officials that their worst problems were humidity and odors.

"It certainly was not a luxury compared to our normal living standards, but people in a normal state of health can endure it quite comfortably," John R. Christmas, 38, the father of the family said.

Christmas was interviewed by telephone in the 113-square foot steel and concrete shelter in which he, his wife, Dorothy, 40, and their children, Stanley, 13, and Mary Louise, 11, took refuge last Wednesday, when a nationwide test alert started.

Except for not having to contend with the problem of atomic contamination in their air intake pipe, the Christmases tried to live exactly as they would in a real attack. But the emphasis in the test was on air, even though there was no danger of its being radioactive.

The first four hours they spent in the shelter, the humidity jumped from 80 per cent to 96 per cent. Christmas found that by operating his hand air pump for 20 minutes every two hours, he could get the humidity back to about 80 per cent.

"To keep the humidity down, they also had to move about as little as possible. Mrs. Christmas feared that she would not be able to cook because of the humidity problem.

"The first time I lit up the canned heat stoves it caused the humidity to jump way up," she said. "But we worked out that problem by cooking while the air pump was in operation."

Air was drawn in through an overhead pipe and pulled through a foot-thick filter to get out impurities. The odors came from cooking, waste foods and the small chemical toilet. But the pump also reduced these odors until they could be endured.

"That pump was about the most important thing in the shelter," Christmas said. "We were fairly comfortable all along. We didn't experience any serious physical dicomfort. It is nothing that any normal, healthy person couldn't endure."

"It's a situation that is endurable, we found. In case we were at war with a foreign power, and an atomic or hydrogen bomb were dropped in the area, the shelter would give people peace of mind to know they had something for protection.

"As I see it, the problem of morale is just as important in case of war as anything else. This shelter certainly would be something that would lift people's morale if they thought an atomic bomb might be dropped in the area."

They were not unduly depressed by their cramping shelter. In shape it was like a hollowed-out cupcake, with a total area about the size of a small room in a house. They ate dehydrated and canned food and drank reconstituted powdered milk.

Each member of the family had a gallon of distilled water a day to drink and 20 gallons for washing. Christmas said this was plenty. They also had 200 pounds of compressed oxygen, but they did not need this.

If they had been in a real attack, they could have closed off their outside air intake and breathed the compressed oxygen. Geiger counters would have told them when radioactivity was high. But the oxygen content of their air in the shelter remained a normal 21 per cent as long as they were in it.

The Christmas children made an easy adjustment to life in the shelter, and they got along a little better than they normally do.

"We didn't have enough time to play with them, but other than that, they were very good," Christmas said. "Their brother-sister relations were even a little better than average, I'd say.

"We found that we could follow a rigid schedule, if it became necessary. We actually tried to act about like we would at home. If we happened to get hungry a few minutes before we had a meal scheduled, we would go ahead and prepare the meal."

Both Christmas and his wife know what real war is. She was in Honolulu when the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941. He is a veteran of the Air Force in World War II.

The Houston Home Builders Association paid the Christmases $100 a day for staying in the shelter. An official of the association said they earned every penny of it.

Woman Arrested On Arson Charge After House Fire

Detectives yesterday reported the arrest by police officers of Euradell Chatman, Negro, 1121 Grammont street, on a charge of arson. She was arrested following a fire which inflicted slight damage on a rear room at the home of Raymond Murry, 119 Hipp Marx alley.

Firemen answered the alarm at 12:06 a.m. yesterday, and upon finding indications of arson notified detectives. The subsiquent investigation by detectives and members of the fire department led to the arrest of the Chatman woman by police officers.

According to detectives the woman told them she had been living with a boarder at the Murry residence until last Sunday, when the man left to bring his wife to live with him in Monroe. She related, detectives said, that while the man was gone, she moved from the house, but said she was with him Saturday night, and that he made a remark she did not like.

Detectives quoted her as saying she then went to a local service station, purchased 10 cents worth of gasoline, poured it on the door of the house and set fire to it.

Detectives also reported the arrest of E. E. Johnson, 21, of Rayville, on charges of burglary and theft by check.

The Rayville man is charged with the burglary of a room at a local hotel on April 21, and the cashing of $15 worthless check at a local store. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he was apprehended by Dallas authorities.

He was returned here to face charges by Sgt. S. O. Martin, of the police forgery detail, and deputy sheriff Raymond Knowles.

Long Says Frazier Will Be Candidate For Lt. Governor

BATON ROUGE, June 18 (AP) — Former Gov. Earl Long, a candidate for governor in the January Democratic primary, said today Lether Frazar, president of McNeese State College, would be his candidate for lieutenant governor.

Long announced they would kick off their campaign with five appearances in the three days of the July 4 weekend.

Long said Frazar and "maybe one or two others on my ticket" would accompany him on speaking dates at Leesville, Coushatta, Lake Providence, Ville Platte and possibly Lake Arthur.

"I will talk about what I will do while I am governor," he said, "and I may get around to mentioning a few of the good things I did when I was governor before."

Long, brother of the late Sen. Huey P. Long, twice before has been Louisiana's governor. In 1939 he moved up from lieutenant governor to complete the unexpired term of former Gov. Richard Leche.

In 1948 Long was elected on his own for a four-year term. Gov. Robert Kennon defeated Long's candidate, Carlos G. Spaht, in the second Democratic primary in 1952. Under Louisiana law a governor cannot succeed himself.

Long said he was not prepared to announce any more of his ticket. Hoxeyes, William (Bill) Dodd, lieutenant governor under Long from 1948 to 1952, was reported ready to run against state auditor Allison Kolb on the Long ticket.

So far only one other candidate has announced for lieutenant governor, William W. McDonald. The Shreveport attorney said he would run as an independent.

In addition to Long, four others have announced for governor, revenue collector Rabbi Fontenot, James McLemore, Sheriff T. H. Martin and Lt. Gov. C. E. (Cap) Barham.

Long said he might speak in Leesville July 2 at 10:30 a.m. and at Coushatta at 2:30 p.m.

Sunday, July 3, he said he would attend a people contact at Lake Providence.

Monday morning, July 4 he will join the other candidates at a political barbecue at Ville Platte. The former governor said he was trying to arrange a meeting in Lake Arthur at 4 p.m. July 4.

Mrs. T. W. Ware Dies In Monroe

Mrs. T. W. Ware, 69, died at her residence, 1811 N. 5th Street, Saturday morning, following an extended illness.

Funeral services will be at Grace Episcopal Church 3:30 p.m. Sunday with Rev. James Marshall officiating, assisted by Rev. E. F Hayward.

Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery under the direction of Mulhearn Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, T. W. Ware, Monroe; two sons, Edgar Ware, Shreveport; Owen Ware, Baton Rouge; seven grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Eoline England, Robertsville, Ala.; three brothers, Thompson Auld, Hefflin, La.; George Auld, Wichita Falls, Texas; Earl Auld, Corsicana, Texas; several nieces and nephews.

She was a member of the Grace Episcopal Church and resident of Monroe for the past 36 years. She was born in Union parish, Jan. 14, 1886.

Sugar Plant Strike

Petition To Oust Judge Leads To Fatal Shooting

NEW ORLEANS, June 18 (AP) — An argument over a petition seeking the removal of a judge in Reserve, La., today ended in the shotgun slaying of one sugar plant striker and the wounding of another.

Sheriff Percy Hebert identified the victim as Julius Davis.

He said O. B. Stickney was under guard at a New Orleans hospital. Stickney received a gunshot wound in the incident.

The sheriff said the argument followed an attempt by Davis to get Stickney to sign a petition asking the removal of Judge Robert L. Rivarde because of his contempt citation against sugar strikers at the Godchaux Sugars, Inc., refinery in Reserve.

Both Negroes, he said, were striking employes of the refinery.

Stickney refused to sign the petition, Hebert said, Davis shot Stickney, then Stickney went to his home nearby for a shotgun and shot Davis in the heart.

The United Packinghouse Workers of America, Local 1124, (CIO) struck against Godchaux Sugars 10 weeks ago. It has the backing of both the AFL and the CIO.

The union asks a 10 cents an hour pay raise and 4½ cents an hour in fringe benefits.

A company spokesman said today the company has offered a five cents an hour raise, and since the union cancelled its contract and went on strike has put the offered raise into effect.

The current minimum rate at the Reserve plant, he said, is $1.39 an hour.

HAD TOUGH DAN

ASHLAND, Ala., June 17 —UP— Albert Baker, 63, told police Friday that an automobile carrying two young men ran him down and left him in the road, but twice returned to the scene. The second time, he said, the driver asked him if he knew who had struck him.

"Yes, you hit me," Baker returned to the scene. The second time, he said, the driver asked him if he knew who had struck him.

"Yes, you hit me," Baker replied. He said the men then drove off, refusing to take him to a hospital to have his broken leg treated. Police later arrested Thomas Dees and Duke Turley, both 21, on hit and run charges.

Health Problems Workshop Offered At College Here

Northeast State is offering a workshop on school health problems, scheduled from June 27 to July 2.

The conference will be held in the air conditioned Baptist Student Center near the college campus, announced A. S. Huffman, Northeast assistant professor of health and physical education and director of the workshop.

Meeting are planned each afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 to 12 noon.

Persons may attend the conference to earn college credit or they may participate in some or all meetings without receiving credit.

Outstanding consultants in the field of health problems will conduct discussions and demonstrations at the meetings, Huffman explained. Current health problems which concern teachers and parents are to be emphasized throughout the workshop.

Where college credit is desired, the individual will be charged a $5 registration fee, attend all sessions, and meet other requirements designed for the short course. Those meeting these requisites will receive one semester hour credit in health and physical education.

Non-credit participants will not have to fill any of the above regulations.

Further information about the workshop may be obtained by writing or telephoning Huffman at Northeast State.

Senate Democrats Almost Drop Hope Of Beefing Budget

WASHINGTON, June 18 —UP— Senate Democrats virtually abandoned hope Saturday of beefing up President Eisenhower's defense budget.

This prospect of defeat was conceded in authoritative quarters even though moves are planned to try to provide more funds than the administration asked when the $45.5 billion military appropriation bill comes before the Senate Monday.

Democratic hopes for enlarging the defense budget were punctured when the Appropriations committee rejected proposals to vote the money to avert planned manpower cuts in the Army and Marine Corps. Democratic defections on the committee made these actions fairly decisive.

After the defense bill, the senate expects to get out one or two minor appropriation measures next week and perhaps to get the public works appropriation passed by the House this week, out of committee.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told newsmen Saturday that he believes Congress will "get our job done" and meet its adjournment target by the end of next month.

He refused to define, however, what he meant by getting the job done. Except for acknowledging that he knew of no efforts to repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law this year, Johnson would not rule on legislation on or off of the program.

"That's up to the House," was his only comment on the administration's stalled military reserve training program for which Mr. Eisenhower has made repeated pleas in the past few days.

The reserve bill foundered in the House in a dispute over outlawing segregation in the National Guard. A House move to revive the measure is expected next week. If the House passes it, the Senate probably will follow suit.

In advance of House action, Johnson also would not comment on prospects for Senate passage this year of a bill to liberalize the Social Security law. The House expects to launch such a bill next week.

Wheat Farmers To Vote On 1956 Price Supports; Ike's Program At Stake

WASHINGTON, June 18 UP Wheat farmers will vote next Saturday in a referendum which could have far-reaching effects on the national economy and the future of the Eisenhower administration's farm program.

Some members of Congress believe it could even affect the outcome of the 1956 presidential election.

Growers in 36 wheat-growing states will determine by secret ballot whether the government support price for next year's wheat crop is to be lowered 25 cents or 87 cents a bushel.

To get the higher of two possible support prices — $1.81 or $1.19 a bushel — farm law requires that growers approve by a two-thirds vote continuance of tight government restrictions on plantings and marketings.

The outcome admittedly is in doubt. A year ago only 13.3 per cent of the farmers approved marketing quotas for the 1955 crop in return for a government price guarantee of $2.06 a bushel.

Administration officials, who have shied away from advising farmers how to vote, are nervously awaiting the outcome. So are farm law makers in Congress.

Two members of the House Agriculture committee, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC) and Carl Albert (D-Okla.), said in separate interviews they hope the farmers will approve marketing quotas. But Cooley said he is "pessimistic" about the outcome unless all farmers "get out and vote."

Rejection of quotas, said Lovre, "would have an immediate, psychologically - depressing effect on the market price of other farm commodities. It could drag down all farm prices."

Fearful that quotas will be rejected, the House Agriculture committee has scheduled tentative hearings three days after the referendum to consider emergency wheat legislation to prevent support prices from dropping to the $1.19 a bushel floor. The hearings will be cancelled if quotas are approved.

Ground Breaking For St. Alban's Church Arranged

Formal ground breaking ceremony for St. Alban's Episcopal Church, to be located at the corner of Jackson and Morris streets, will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday, the Eve of St. Alban's Day, it was announced yesterday. The church will be dedicated in honor of Saint Alban, the first Britisher to be martyred for the Christian faith, and will be the only Episcopal church in Louisiana so named.

The construction of St. Alban's church will be the first step in a city-wide missionary and expansion program by the Episcopal church. In a few months ground will also be broken for the erection of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in the college area. Episcopal services are also being held in West Monroe, and after formal organization of the new Mission there, another building program will be launched.

Officiating at the St. Alban's ceremony will be the Rev. Robert E. Ratelle, Priest-in-charge; John C. Eby, Warden, and the Rev. James E. Marshall, curate, and the Rev. Edward F. Hayward, rector emeritus, representing Grace Episcopal Church, the mother parish. Clergy from neighboring cities are also expected to be in attendance.

The new church will include the church proper, church school classrooms, and an assemply hall. Architect for the building will be Beauford Jacks, Monroe. Construction will be by Ted R. Woods construction Company, Monroe.

The congregation is meeting temporarily at the Plum Street School.

The public has been invited to attend the ground-breaking services.

East Baton Rouge Employment Soars By 275 In May

BATON ROUGE, June 18—UP— State Employment Service manager C.H. Destorff said Saturday that employment in East Baton Rouge parish soared by 275 workers in May.

The total employment from mid-April to mid-May was 72,550 compared to 71,775 a year ago.

He said unemployment dropped in the same period from 3,500 to 3,100. The jump was attributed to a seasonal up-swing caused by new building and construction projects now underway.

Make-Up Shots Are Scheduled

Richland parish health unit officials yesterday announced the schedule for makeup clinics at which Salk polio vaccinations will be given eligible students who did not receive the second injection of the vaccine at the regularly scheduled time.

On Wednesday, 8:30 a.m. to noon the vaccine will be administered to Holly Ridge white and Negro students at the Holly Ridge health unit clinic; Thursday from 8:30 a.m. to noon the vaccine will be given to Delhi white children at the Delhi health unit clinic, and Friday from 8:30 a.m. to noon the injections will be administered to Delhi Negro students at the Delhi health unit clinic.

WOMAN ROUTS THIEVES

CROSSVILLE, Tenn., June 17— UP— When three men tried to rob Mrs. Shirley Free's cafe they didn't know her husband used to be sheriff.

When she heard the intruders she grabbed a pistol, captured one of the men and sent the others diving out the window with a burst of fire. Police captured the other two at a roadblock.

Administration Ponders Need For Federal Powers Over Salk Vaccinations

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL

WASHINGTON, June 18—UP— The administration is seriously considering the need for sweeping new federal powers over mass vaccinations in view of the troubles encountered in the Salk anti-polio program, informed sources said Saturday.

Some top health officials are arguing that the Public Health Service should be given clear legal authority to approve or disapprove nationwide medical programs affecting the lives of millions of Americans.

They feel the present licensing machinery, designed merely to assure the safety of a biological product, is an inadequate basis for deciding whether it is wise to go ahead with a mass program with all of the possible dangers it involves.

The question of what new powers the government needs or should request from Congress is being debated vigorously behind the scenes.

A final decision has not been reached but the issue is expected to be raised in public next week when the House Commerce Committee opens its long-promised full-scale investigation of the polio controversy.

Chairman J. Percy Priest (D-Tenn.; has warned the administration that one of the chief purposes of the inquiry will be to determine what the government's responsibility is—or should be—for mass medical programs.

The issue boiled to the surface amid two other disclosures:

1. Informed sources said the government expects to report in a week or 10 days on its investigation into the suspected "definite association" between Cutter vaccine and some 60 cases of polio among Cutter-inoculated children.

2. The National Institutes of Health has held up the approval of at least one new batch of vaccine pending the submission of additional testing data. When more vaccine will be released remains uncertain.

The administration ordered a full-scale review of the government's creaking, 1902 biologics control law after the difficulties with the Salk program turned up a number of obvious shortcomings.

No Witnesses To Back Gulf Coast Gambling Charge

GULFPORT, Miss., June 18 —UP— A Harrison county grand jury, emphasizing it does not sanction the violation of any state laws, said Saturday it could not pursue a charge of open gambling on the Mississippi Gulf Coast because no witnesses appeared to back up the allegation.

The 17-member jury presented its findings to Circuit Judge Leslie Grant after six days of investigation of conditions in Harrison county.

The charge that the Biloxi-Gulfport area teems with gambling and liquor law violations had been conveyed to the jury by grant upon the request of a group of ministers after a meeting of the Gulf Coast Baptist Association.

"We have been in session for six days," the report said, "and no group, individual or organizations have appeared before us to present witnesses or any evidence of violations in reference to gambling or liquor."

The ministerial group and an organization called the Harrison County Crime commission urged crackdowns on gambling in this lush resort area.

We of the jury submit that the dignity of this organization should not be used in the face of the Aug. 2 Democratic primary to make any investigation that would aid or deter any political faction or group," the jury report said.

"Any investigation prior to this election would in our opinion become a political football."

The jury said it "does not sanction any violation of the laws of the state, but believe that there is ample machinery under the law to handle any violation. We believe that these matters can be handled without the necessity of continued unfavorable publicity to this great section of country.

Any investigation it initiated, the jury said, "would have been based on hearsay and not factual evidence."

The report went on to express the jury's "dislike of out-of-state factions promoting and requesting investigations by this body.

IT WAS TRUE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, June 17—UP—Koos Jantjies told his boss he took two days off 15 weeks apart because his wife gave birth on both days.

The incredulous employer went to the home of the laborer and found he was telling the truth. Both the girl born first and the son are normal weight and healthy.

Shreveport Gets Nod Over Monroe For Reserve Site

Monroe has been bypassed in favor of Shreveport as a site for a proposed $2,000,000 Air Reserve training center.

Congressman Overton Brooks, who made the announcement after a conference with the Air Force, said the center will be located at Barksdale Field in Shreveport.

Monroe, along with a number of other cities in the Arkansas, Louisiana, and East Texas area, had been unuder consideration for the site. Air Force officials inspected the facilities at Selman Field some two months ago.

Air Reserve officials in Shreveport estimated the annual payroll from the center, which will now be paid out in that city, may reach as high as $1,000,000 annually.

Congressman Brooks made the announcement of the selection in Washington after a final conference with General Curtis LeMay, commanding general of the Strategic Air Command.

Brooks said a 20-acre tract on the 23,000 - acre Barksdale base will be utilized for the unit.

The 9136rd group headquarters in Shreveport has jurisdiction over reserve units at Shreveport, Monroe, Bastrop, Alexandria, and El Dorado, Ark.

About 75 to 80 regular duty Air Force personnel will be used at the center, and about the same number of civilian employees, it was estimated.

Catholics, Reds Bid For Italian Workers' Loyalty

By FRANK BRUTTO

MILAN, Italy, June 18 (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church and the Italian Communist party are joined in a headlong, grand-scale struggle for the loyalty of the working man in industrial northern Italy.

Four men, from among whom the next pope might well be chosen, are directing the church's campaign. Three of them are cardinals. The fourth, Giovanni Battista Montini, declined a cardinal's hat two years ago to continue as right-hand man to Pope Pius XII. He is now archbishop of Milan.

Arrayed against these men in a battle which could break the back of Italy's two-million-member Communist party, largest in the West, are leaders with corresponding power and influence in the Communist hierarchy.

From Milan, the battle lines extend in a diamond shape across Italy to the port cities of Genoa on the Ligurian and Venice on the Adriatic Sea. Then they drop southward to meet at Bologna, principal city in Italy's rich Po Valley and now governed by a Communist mayor.

The church commanders beside Montini are Giuseppe Cardinal Siri of Genoa, at 49 the youngest member of the College of Cardinals; Giacomo Cardinal Lercaro of Bologna; and the cardinal patriarch of Venice, Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli.

Montini, Siri and Lercaro are frequently mentioned as likely candidates when the time comes to choose a successor to the present pope.

In Milan, Montini's opponent is would-be p ay ba... Pietro.

In Bologna, the Communists are led by ham-handed Giuseppe Dozza, a former blacksmith who has been mayor since the end of the war.

Two Red leaders, ex-Mayor Gelasio Adamoli and party regional secretary Secondo Pessi, oppose Cardinal Siri at Genoa. And former Mayor Giambattista Gianquinto directs the Communists in Venice.

The Communists have lost the first skirmishes. For the first time since the war, Communist unions have been losing in shop steward elections in northern Italy.

The Communist-dominated Italian General Confederation of Labor (CGIL) has lost 159,770 members in recent months. The biggest loss, 75,597, came in Lombardy, whose industrial heart is Milan.

Montini took over his post at Milan early this year after having been associated with the Vatican's secretary of state office for 30 years.

His first act was to remove the silk gloves of diplomacy at Sesto San Giovanni, a steel and heavy industry city of 45,000 which has been known since the war as "Little Stalingrad," because of Red strength there.

Under a cold, winter sky, jagged with factory chimneys, the former vatican pro-secretary of state declared: "With the grace of God I will do everything possible to be the archbishop of the workers."

Montini's words were a direct challenge to Secchia, an advocate of direct action and opponent of ailing Italian Communist chief Palmiro Togliatti's kid-glove tactics. If Secchia, now 52, can turn tide of Red losse in Lombardy, his bid for leadership of the party in Italy scarcely could be challenged. Secchia generally is given much of the credit for building the Italian party from about 400,000 to more than two million membership.

The prize for which the archbishop and "The Barrel" contest is an immense one.

Lombardy has only 7.6 per cent of Italy's national territory but contains 15 per cent of its inhabitants—6,600,000 people. The Milan archdiocese has 5.55 per cent of the nation's population, but 12.5 per cent of its income.

The sprawling archdiocese contains 3,257,432 people and 1,158 churches. Nearly all people in the archdiocese were Catholic baptized.

Yet, despite the large number of churches, some 500,000 people on Milan city's mushrooming outskirts have no church they can call their own. Mobile chapels are being used to bring services to them. One of Montini's urgent projects is to build 50 new churches.

Secchia also plans to build. He has said: "Alongside every church, a Communist cell."

Only a few days ago Pope Pius named Cardinal Siri of Genoa the ecclesiastical head of Catholic action. This is the potent "white army" of more than four million members with which the church meets the Red threat at all levels—in city and farm, youth to youth, woman to woman and man to man.

Genoa-born Siri, in his youth an excellent soccer player, has long been associated with the work of Catholic Action. In his own archdiocese some 50,000 men and women are active in the movement. Siri's major activities against the Communist threat also include factory chaplains and his "Apostolato del Mare," Apostolate of the Sea, through which efforts are made to reach workers in factories and on the city's docks.

Fifty-five per cent of all American families now own one automobile, eight per cent own two or more and 37 per cent own none.

Ellender Pleased At Restoration Of Bridge Funds

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D—La) said today he is pleased at the House restoring funds for two Louisiana projects, Ferrell's Bridge reservoir and Port Allen-Indian Village shortcut.

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on public works, said he had been determined to restore the cuts if the House had not done so. The House Appropriations Committee had eliminated all money for the two projects from the public works bill, but the House overrode the committee's action.

Ellender said he will fight any attempted cuts in the Senate.

One of the factors that prompted the House committee to delete funds for the Ferrell's Bridge project north of Shreveport, he said, was that local communities were unable to meet their share of the project's cost.

The communities couldn't do so, he said, because bonding companies wouldn't purchase the community bonds until a completion date had been set for the project, while the Army engineers couldn't set a date until Congress voted the money.

"It was a vicious circle," he said.

But, he added, he and Sen. Long (D—La) corrected the situation by convincing the Senate Public Works Committee to approve a resolution which postpones payment of local contributions until the final year of construction. This, he said, does not reduce the communities' obligations but it did remove the grounds for the House committee's objections.

As for the Port Allen-Indian Village shortcut of the intra-coastal canal, Ellender said the House committee had acted on "erroneous information." He added:

"The House Appropriations Committee indicated that the primary purpose of the project was to reduce the traffic load on the Harvey lock near New Orleans. The committeee took the position that since a second New Orleans lock, located near Algiers, is nearing completion, the Port Allen facility was unnecessary.

"This is wrong. The Port Allen shortcut stands on its own two feet. It is necessary in order to reduce the distance tows must travel by 165 miles, and to replace 50-year-old, outmoded locks at Plaquemine."

Natural Immunity Doing Much Polio Work, Prof Says

NEW ORLEANS, June 18—(AP)—A Tulane university professor of epidemiology said Saturday natural immunity to polio will continue to do much of the work in the polio fight despite the introduction of the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

The professor, Dr. John P. Fox, has directed Tulane scientists in a study of natural immunization to polio for two years. He said the study would be continued after vaccination in order to learn about the possible spread of infection among vaccinated children.

The Tulane study, begun in 1953 with the aid of the national Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is being carried out through 155 volunteer white and Negro children from Louisiana.

The children were selected from among newborn babies in 1953 because they are the most certainly immune, Dr. Fox said.

They live in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Morgan City, Franklin, Patterson, Jeanerette, New Iberia, St. Martinville and Lafayette.

Dr. Fox said during the study polio infection has entered 85 households and 200 persons, newborn babies and older brothers and sisters have become immune.

"In most cases," he said, "none of the illnesses resulted in infection. In the balance of the cases, illness was not significant."

Dr. Fox said this phase of polio research will be carried on for another 2½ years.

However, he said, "When the Salk vaccine is approved, children in the 155 study households of the Tulane project will have a high priority and it is planned to offer the vaccine to them all.

"Thereafter, we obviously cannot study the occurrence of primary natural immunity in artificially immunized individuals. However, we can study the natural occurrence of infection in artificially immune children."

Dr. Fox said the evaluation program last year indicated that the vaccine prevents disease but it had no bearing on the problem of infection.

"It is important to know," he said, "if general vaccination affects the spread of virus in a community. If not, then the person who is vaccinated can probably count on later natural infection to reinforce immunity through life."

He said if the spread of the virus is largely suppressed, then vaccine - induced immunity may fall off and children will become susceptible again.

"This would mean periodic re-vaccination," he said.

Brooks Predicts Action To Boost Military Reserve

WASHINGTON, June 18 (AP)—Rep. Brooks (D-La) predicted today the House will act on some type of legislation to strengthen the military reserves, as the result of President Eisenhower's appeal to the country.

Brooks is chairman of a House Armed Services subcommittee which wrote the original measure to increase the active reserves fourfold, to two million men, by 1960.

Among other things, the measure authorizes a new pool of 250,000 teen-age volunteers each year for six months' training, followed by 7½ years in the reserves. It also provides that reservists failing to attend weekly drills can be recalled for 45 days' active service.

The bill is now stalemated in the House as the result of an amendment prohibiting assignment of reservists to National Guard units practicing segregation.

Brooks said he has worked for some time on alternative methods of breaking the impasse but "so far it has been a blind alley."

He declined to reveal what new steps are contemplated but said the House "will have to get out some kind of a bill to strengthen the reserves before the end of the session. It is unthinkable for us to quit without doing this." Some leaders have predicted adjournment in July or August.

Brooks said he will speak to the House on the issue Monday. Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the Armed Services Committee has promised an announcement Tuesday. Otherwise, Democratic leaders who are carrying on the President's fight decline to reveal their plans.

The President said in a speech Friday that the legislation must be enacted for the nation's security. He said it is "so important" that "we cannot allow any extraneous matter of any kind" to block it.

Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) promptly wired the President that, "every American should heed your appeal, realizing that no one who has not served as you have in the capacity of chief of staff and now, as president, in the role of commander-in-chief, can make the same appraisal of our defense needs."

Thurmond, president of the Reserve Officers Assn., pledged "my continuing efforts and the full strength of the association on behalf of this vital legislation."

Rep. Powell (D-NY), author of the anti-segregation amendment, was absent from Washington and unavailable for comment. He has said, however, that he will not back down on his amendment but will support a bill that eliminates authority for federal assignment of reservists to National Guard units.

A spokesman for the National Guard Assn. has said it will oppose this type of bill because, he contended, the guard will be dependent upon between 100,000 and 150,000 assigned reservists each year to meet its buildup quotas.

Twin Cities Shutout Vicksburg, 1 To 0

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

The Baltimore Orioles may be at the bottom of the pile in the American League race, but the Yankees, Dodgers, or any others of the front-runners, can't be claiming much more interest from Twin Cities fans who are watching the Orioles mighty closely these days since Wayne Causey, 18-year-old trash from Monroe's Neville High School, has won enough of Manager Paul Richards' esteem to get his chance in the Baltimore lineup.

Causey, a bonus player publically committed as signed to a $25,000 bonus over a three-year period despite persistent rumors he may have collected more, is the first young athlete from this area ever to make the big jump from the high school diamonds to the big time, and only three others, to our knowledge, ever eventually reached the majors.

WAYNE CAUSEY

The old Monroe City High School supplied pitcher George Gill to the Detroit Tigers back in the 1930s. Gill had been coached in high school by Paul Neal, now Neville principal. And Ouachita Parish High of Monroe saw Murrell Jones, tutored in his prep days by Leo Hartman, go to the Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox before he quit baseball a few years ago rather than step down to the Louisville farm of the Boxox. But both Gill and Jones got minor league experience before reaching the top.

Then there was Ed Head, the West Monroe farm boy who had his high school career as a lefthanded pitcher blighted by an accident that almost cost him his left arm. But Head turned to righthanded pitching in the cowpasture games of the '30s, won a tryout in the Evangeline League and eventually made the grade with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Head's active career ended nine years ago, he managed for seven years in the Dodger system and is now skipper of the Twin Cities Sports here.

At least nine major clubs are known to have been after Causey, but we feel he might be better off at Baltimore with a chance to play and improve his talents than he would have been with some other outfits where he may have been anchored to a bench during the two years he must stay in the majors under the bonus-player regulations. Many bonus players never make the grade because they waste two formative years riding benches when steady play, even in the minors, possibly would be better for them as they would be playing regularly.

Since Baltimore is fighting desperately to find a way up the American League ladder and apparently is building for the future on young athletes, Causey may have picked his best spot if he wants to play something near regularly and get a better chance to stay. Already he has played third base and shortstop for the Orioles. And he was also a pitcher and outfielder in high school. Versatility may be to his advantage.

Causey boosted his Oriole stock Friday night when his seventh inning home run enabled Baltimore to tie Detroit, 1-1, and the Orioles went on to beat the Tigers, 3-2.

The fortune of the Neville athlete, who also played American Legion Junior ball here and with Farmerville in the Big Eight League last year, has set him up as a model for all the Little Leaguers, Babe Ruth Leaguers, and Minor circuits of this section. They're learning baseball faster under good supervision, and the kids make for finer Legion and high school teams as they advance.

Earl Vigg, once a Neville football player, is probably the first Monroe fan to see Causey play big league ball. Vigg returned home yesterday from a vacation with relatives in Baltimore. He saw Causey play both games of a double header earlier in the week.

"Baltimore is sold on Causey," Vigg said. "It looks like he's in the lineup to stay."

Drummond Bests Martin In Fast Pitching Battle

The Twin Cities Sports used an unearned run for the only score of the game to beat the Vicksburg Hill Billies, 1 to 0, here last night to give 1,067 "Legion Night" customers their fastest battle of the season at Legion Memorial Stadium. The win snapped a three-game losing streak for the Sports who depart today for a two-day appearance at Meridian, Miss.

A pair of righthanders, Bill Drummond of the Sports and Paul Martin of the Billies, made it a pitcher's duel all the way, but shortstop Bobby Cothran's overthrow of first base, allowing Rod Kanehl, the Twin Cities short fielder, to score from second base in the fourth inning made the difference in the ball game.

Drummond held the Bills to five hits, while Martin was pitching a six-hitter, and there wasn't an extra base blow in the lot. Each pitcher fanned six. Martin walked two, Drummond walked only one, and each club had only six runners stranded.

In the decisive inning, Kanehl led off with an infield hit. He stole second while Martin was fanning Roy Mantle and Marshall Gilbert. The Ed Ripple rapped a bounder at Cothran who threw wild to first, and Kanehl romped all the way home.

Vicksburg's only serious threats came in the first and fifth innings when the Billies got runners as far as third base.

With two out in the first frame, Jim Maxfield was hit on the hand by a pitched ball. A single by Andy Keller set him up at third although Richie Windle, Twin Cities center fielder, almost threw Mayfield out at the bag. Kelled made second on the play, but Drummond ended that threat by fanning Dave Dickerson.

In the fifth, Bob Ravich led off for Vicksburg with a single. Jerry Ringle sacrificed. Bill Carr grounded to Kanehl, who pulled Gilbert off the bag with his throw to first, and Ravich gained third with only one out. But catcher Don Saatzer caught Ravich playing too far off a moment later with a rifle throw to Ripple that nipped Ravich. Martin fanned Dumar Smith to retire the side.

Roy Mantle, of the Sports, and Andy Keller, of the Bills, were top hitters of the game with two single apiece.

The fastest game of the season here was over after an hour and 50 minutes and was even faster than either of two seven - inning games played as part of a double header a week ago.

Unknown Jack Fleck Ties Hogan For Open Crown

Spectacular Finish On 18th Produces Title Round Today

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18 (AP)—Jack Fleck, a hollow - cheeked unknown from Davenport, Iowa, nailed a spectacular birdie on the final green today to tie four time winner Ben Hogan for the National Open Golf Championship. They had 72-hole scores of 287.

The 32-year-old midwesterner, who has never won a major tournament, flashed in on a wave of birdies with a three-under-par 67 an hour after Hogan apparently had won the title.

The two leaders clash in an 18-hole playoff tomorrow.

On the 72nd hole, with a crowd of more than 10,000 straining for a peek from the natural amphitheater of the Olympic Club course and lining the fairways, Fleck poled his tee shot to the edge of the rough, then laced an iron approach to within seven feet of the pin.

While the crowd sat tense, Fleck walked up briskly, gave the assignment one quick measurement and then sped the ball home.

There were only a few straggling spectators — no more than 25—at Fleck's heels at the 14th hole when Hogan, with the entire gallery yelping at his heels, finished with a 70—the only time he had matched par through the three day test.

Then word went out that the lean, hungry-looking Iowan, who has won only $2,000 - plus on the tour so far this year, was on a birdie binge.

The crowd stampeded out on the course to pick up the challenger at the 15th where he needed two birdies to tie Hogan and three to win—an apparently hopeless task on some of the most treacherous finishing holes in golf.

Fleck picked up one quickly on the 144-yard 15th where he flew his tee shot to within nine feet and sank a deuce. He got his par five on the 603-yard 16th, longest on the course, and at the 17th a 50-foot putt lipped the cup. The crowd let out a loud groan.

Then came the final hole where Fleck whacked out of the rough, which killed the hopes of many of the sport's greatest stars, and made one of the most difficult pressure putts in this tournament's history.

The ball was flag-high to the right of the pin. It was partially side-hill.

Fleck is an operator of two municipal courses in Davenport.

In the past he has confined himself to playing the winter tour but this year he has made the entire circuit. His winnings, however, haven't been enough to pay his caddie's fees.

Fleck started the day at 145 tied with Hogan, Julius Boros and Jeane Walker Inman Jr., behind Tommy Bolt and amateur Harvie Ward.

The Iowan shot a 75 in the morning to fall off the pace as Hogan forged into the lead on a 72. But all other contenders soon folded, leaving the course first to Hogan and then to the unbelievable Mr. Fleck.

Sam Snead, still the runnerup, got a 70-74 to finish five strokes back of the two leaders at 292, tied with Tommy Bolt, the early leader, who faded to 75-73.

Julius Boros, the sphynx-like 1952 Open champion, and young Bob Rosburg of San Francisco were tied at 295 followed by amateur Harvie Ward Jr., Doug Ford and Bud Holscher, together at 296.

Staley Masters Bucs On 5 Hits; Redlegs Win, 4-1

CINCINNATI, June 18 (AP)— The Cincinnati Redlegs' Gerry Staley clipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-1 today on five hits. Wally Post and Stan Palys hit homers over the left field wall in the fourth inning and Post contributed a double and single to the Redleg assault on the major league pitching debut of Lino Donoso, Cuban lefthander.

Hawaiian Lass Claims College Women's Title

LAKE BLUFF, Ill., June 18 (AP) —Jackie Yates, a tiny Hawaiian girl who plays for the University of Redlands (Calif.) soundly trounced Gail Berridge Long of Sophie Newcombe College, New Orleans, 3 and 4, for the Women's Intercollege golf championship today.

Miss Yates, who stands 5 - 2½ and weighs 118, fired two-under-par golf for the 14 holes needed to whip favored Miss Long, 5-8 and 140 pounds.

Miss Long previously had eliminated 1953 champion Pat Lesser of Seattle University and medalist Barbara McIntire, Rollins College.

An original field of 48 started this 11th annual meet.

The 19-year-old Jackie made the nine-hole turn at Shoreacres Club in a par-matching 36 for a two-hole lead.

Only Skelly Guarantees You

Either 10% More Mileage - Or 10 Gallons of Gasoline FREE

When You Switch To The Skelly Supreme "Power Pair":

Switch to the Skelly Supreme "Power Pair" from any other brand of gasoline and motor oil. Then . . . if you don't get at least 10% more miles per gallon in the next 30 days than you got in the last 30 days, Skelly will give you 10 gallons of Skelly Supreme Gasoline absolutely FREE!

"How can Skelly dare to guarantee more mileage when others merely claim it?" you may ask. "What's the catch in this offer?"

There is no "catch." The octane rating of Skelly Supreme Gasoline has just been boosted to the highest in Skelly history. And Skelly Supreme Motor Oil has the world's highest tested viscosity index. Together, they beat the power (or the miles) per dollar of any other combination of premium gasoline and motor oil.

"But," you may say, "how can switching to Skelly Supreme Motor Oil increase my gasoline mileage?

It can help these 3 ways:

1. Because Skelly Supreme Motor Oil has the world's highest tested viscosity index, it flows more freely during starting and warm-up—yet maintains a tougher protective film at high engine heats—giving you better lubrication, less mileage-stealing "friction-drag."

2. Minimizes combustion deposits, the main cause of mileage-wasting "pre-ignition."

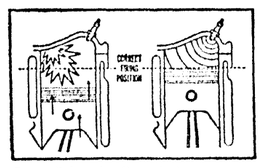
3. Keeps hydraulic valve lifters, piston rings and cylinder walls free of sticky lacquer and gum, so these parts can function properly at all speeds and temperatures.

Result: a cleaner, properly lubricated engine that squeezes the most miles per gallon from every drop of gasoline.

Look at it this way. You buy gasoline and motor oil anyway. By switching to the Skelly Supreme Power Pair, and giving it a fair test for at least 30 days, you're bound to win—one way or the other.

You'll get 10% more mileage by switching to the Skelly Supreme Power Pair—or you get 10 gallons of Skelly Supreme Gasoline FREE!

New Higher Octane in Gasoline; Highest Tested V. I. in Motor Oil:



Premium Brands	Viscosity Index	Flash	Fire	Cold Test	Carbon Residue
Skelly Supreme Grade O	159.1	410°	445°	—45°	.06%
Competitive Brand A	155.7	370°	410°	—40°	.07%
Competitive Brand B	153.7	355°	390°	—35°	.18%
Competitive Brand C	144.3	385°	420°	—40°	.45%

Stops "afterglow" explosions that rob you of mileage: Ordinary premium gasolines (left) often allow hot, glowing engine deposits to ignite the fuel before piston reaches correct firing position. SK-100 concentrate in Skelly Supreme Gasoline prevents this power-wasting "pre-ignition" by eliminating trouble-causing "after-glow." Result: quiet, controlled combustion . . . more power . . . more miles from every gallon!

World's highest tested viscosity index . . . and lowest consumption! By the oil industry's own rating system, Skelly Supreme Motor Oil beats all others tested—holds first place in all five of these important characteristics of any motor oil . . . gives better lubrication, less "friction-drag," more miles per gallon. And because it's the world's lowest consumption motor oil, you'll add less oil, if any, between changes.

The famous Skelly Supreme "Power Pair": Skelly Supreme Gasoline, just stepped-up to the highest octane rating in Skelly history, and Skelly Supreme Motor Oil, with the world's highest tested viscosity index. These two superior products, each tops in its own field, are the result of years of Skelly research and development. Made of the finest components, and proved by the most stringent road tests, they have been specifically engineered to work together with the utmost compatibility to give you a cleaner, better lubricated, more efficient engine capable of delivering the most possible power—and miles—per dollar.

HERE'S ALL YOU DO TO TAKE ME UP ON THIS SENSATIONAL GUARANTEE OF EITHER 10% MORE MILES . . . OR 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE FREE!

So what can you lose? Drive into a Skelly station today and start your 30-day test of the Skelly Supreme Power Pair!

1. Drive into any Skelly station, have your crankcase drained and refilled with Skelly Supreme Motor Oil.
2. Fill up with Skelly Supreme Gasoline.
3. Register for the "10% More Miles" Test.
4. Use only the Skelly Supreme Power Pair for at least 30 days. Record each purchase and the mileage on the form provided.
5. After 30 days, if you have not averaged at least 10% more mileage, Skelly will give you a check for 10 gallons of Skelly Supreme Gasoline absolutely FREE!

Rippili Zooms To Second Place In League Batting

By J. P. FRIEND
Cotton States Statistician

Bernie Tomicki, Pine Bluff returnee, has earned the right to occupy first place in the 1955 Cotton States league batting race. Failing to hit in only four of 36 games since reporting late to the Judges, the third baseman has a mark of .427 with 26 hits in 61 times at bat. He clubbed five home runs and six doubles and batted in 18 runs. He hit .556 in '54.

Ed Rippili, also a third baseman—with Monroe—had his batting skein severed at 21 in a row Tuesday night but the spree netted 29 points and vaulted him into second place with .367. He has 98-36 for the season. The run from June 2-15 produced 18 hits in 29 trips.

Mississippi Southern's contribution to the El Dorado Oilers — Jim Davenport — dipped slightly during the week ending Tuesday night but his .329 rated third highest in 131 trips. Jim produced 47 hits, including a dozen doubles, one triple and five home runs.

Charles (Chuck) Lucabaugh is making the decision of the Judges to convert him into an outfielder to take advantage of his big bat look very good. His average stands at .356, a gain of 16 with 26-10, a double, triple and second homer among the assortment.

Ken Kortum, Hot Springs shortstop, set a blistering pace with 16-7 for a 34-point boost to .351 and went from 15th to fifth place, just ahead of Lee Seyman, El Dorado first baseman and last week's space setter.

The Oiler rookie's bat cooled off considerably in the glare of keen pitching that cost him 30 decimals and the loop lead. His average dropped from .377 to .347 on four singles in 25 chances.

Another comparative newcomer, Al Della Volle, who has been shifting to every spot on the Hot Springs infield, except behind the plate, in 22 games, got into the spotlight with 21-9 that ran his percentage from .310 to .342.

WATCH OUT

for leaky exhaust systems, blown-out mufflers, broken tailpipes . . .

THEY CAN BE DANGEROUS AND ROB YOUR CAR OF EFFICIENCY

If your car is more than a year old, it's time to keep close track of your exhaust system. Don't take a chance on carbon monoxide poisoning. Let us give your exhaust system a free check-over. If it's OK, we'll say so. If you do need a new muffler or tailpipe, you'll find our prices hard to beat.

Buying Monroe!

Get Your Next Automobile or Truck from One of Monroe's

FACTORY Authorized Dealers

It's to Your Advantage Because...

Your local Factory Authorized New Car and Truck Dealers hire hundreds of Twin City citizens, your friends and neighbors. These employees are paid in excess of over 1 MILLION DOLLARS yearly. These fellow Monroe citizens spend this money in the Twin Cities — with YOU!

By keeping your money revolving in Monroe, it is taxed several times. This helps to provide you, as a Monroe citizen, with good schools, good streets, police and fire protection, sanitary departments — in fact, all of those things which make Monroe an all around good city in which to live.

THINK IT THROUGH...

- THEY HIRE LOCALLY
- THEY SPEND LOCALLY
- THEY SERVE LOCALLY

PATRONIZE THEM!

Drove For Supreme Court Judge

Chauffeur Admits Killing Mississippi Storekeeper

JACKSON, Miss., June 18 (AP)—A state Supreme Court janitor charged today, connected to the disappearance-slaying of a store keeper and the four-month search for a missing state capitol night watchman.

Lloyd Hampton Jr. of Pearl confessed the murder of Edgar Keeler, 64-year-old grocer of Decatur, Miss., Police said he charged Keeler just before dawn Feb. 1 and beat him with a steel weapon, and assault and battery with intent to kill.

He said Keeler confessed to:

1. Beating to death Louis Hutchins in his clothing store during a mid-morning lull Jan. 28 and stealing $125 in cash, a pair of pants and an overcoat.

2. Beating up the Negro Cooper Jr. race-old capital night watchman just before dawn Feb. 1 and stealing $140 from the cashbox or blind capitol concessionaire Homer Brewer.

3. Beating Mrs. Emma Saik in her grocery after she refused to cash what she thought was a worthless check for another customer.

Pierce said the check passed whom he declined to identify, provoked the trip for Keeler's arrest. Detectives R. L. Foster and W. L. Mitchel made the arrest at the capitol yesterday.

In addition to clearing up the three beatings, Pierce said his men recovered an antique pistol that had been stolen from the state museum on the first floor of the capitol and a typewriter that had been stolen from the House of Representatives.

Pierce said his men had been working "constantly on the case since it happened. We questioned more than 500 persons in the last five months."

In his confession, Keeler described how he killed Hutchins.

He drove the justice to work and had nothing to do until about noon. He wandered around town for a while and finally entered Hutchins' clothing store.

He examined several articles and finally asked for a pair of shoes.

"When he (Hutchins) turned to go after the shoes, I hit him behind the neck. I rabbit chopped him," Keeler demonstrated with side of his hand against his own neck.

"He leaned across the table. . . I rabbit-chopped him again. He went down. Then he raised up and I . . . went crazy kicking him."

Keeler said he kicked the prostrate Hutchins several times about the face and "drug him from the front back in the back" of the store into a small room.

He washed his face and hands, scooped $125 from the cash register, stole a pair of trousers and donned an overcoat to cover his bloodstained clothing.

He returned to the capitol where he washed some more, changed clothing and then ate lunch.

In the Keary Cooper beating, Pierce said Keeler entered a back window with intent to rob Brewer's strongbox. As he turned a corner, he came face to face with Cooper and slugged him with a tire iron.

Then he clipped out a heavy mahogany door panel to get at the chained down, locked money box.

Keeler said he took $140 but left $78 behind some brushes on a storeroom shelf. Later, he said, somebody took it.

Cooper spent weeks in the hospital. Two weeks ago he collapsed and returned to the hospital.

Pierce said Keeler beat Mrs. Saik because she threatened to call police after she recognized him as a companion of a Negro who had tried to cash a worthless check.

Keeler slugged the woman several times and fled.

More Attending City Playgrounds Figures Disclose

Playgrounds showed an increase of 517 children over the first week of last year. Attendance on the various playgrounds is as follows: Plum Street school, 414; Sherrouse, 206; Lida Benton, 298; Lexington, 326; Barkdull Faulk, 490; Missouri Pacific, 227; Georgia Tucker, 245; J. S. Clark school, 350; Bryant's addition, 618; Carroll High, 414; Carver Housing, 478; Booker T. Playground, 272; and Mt. Nebo, 424; making a total of 4,762, on all playgrounds.

This week each playground will have a checker tournament for pee-wee, midget and junior boys and girls and the winners will meet at Lexington school on Monday, June 27, to decide who the city playground champion will be for the whites and the colored will meet at Carver Housing project on the same day. All playgrounds will have a pet show on Friday morning. Parents are urged to send their children to the nearest playground and there is no charge for any of the activities.

Shreveport Wedding Holds Interest To Friends Here

An out-of-town wedding of much interest here was that of Miss Myra Alice Parkes and Paul Ratcliff Winder, both of Shreveport, which was celebrated June 12 in Shreveport.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmundson Parkes and Mr. Winder is the son of Mrs. Paul West Winder and the late Dr. Winder.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock in St. Mark's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Rudolph Bangert officiating. Vases of white gladioli stock and Marconi daisies decorated the altar. Floor baskets of the same blossoms, interspersed with burning cathedral tapers, were used against a background of palms, in the chancel. William Teague, organist, rendered a concert of nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of heirloom taffeta, the full wide skirt sweeping into a chapel train. Appliques of Chantilly lace, picked up with single pearls, outlined the neckline where it joined the high neck of illusion. The same lace was used on the sleeves. A small coronet of seed pearls and sequins held her tiered veil of illusion and she carried a prayer book topped with a single white orchid.

Miss Ruth Parkes was the maid of honor, the other attendants were Mrs. William T. Barnett of Macon, Ga., Mrs. W. M. Casey, Jr., Hondo, Texas, and Miss John L. Daniel, Mrs. Crighton Webb and Miss Mary Louise Winder of Shreveport. They wore porcelain blue waltz length dresses of crystallene with flattering shoulder-framing fichus, the long lines of the tight fitting bodices forming scallops in front and extending into bouffant skirts. They carried cascading bouquets of yellow glamellias.

Carey L. Ratcliff was his nephews' best man. Groomsmen and ushers included Lt. D. Frank Green, Jr., of Hondo, Texas, Thomas H. Nelson and James M. Todd, Jr. of New Orleans, Sam Webb Smith, Jr., of Shreveport, Paul Tennis and George Williams, both of Neosho, Mo.

A reception followed at the Shreveport Country Club with Mr. and Mrs. Parkes hosts. Mrs. W. B. Gladney of Baton Rouge and Miss Genevra Washburn, of Monroe, aunts of the bride, greeted the guests at the door. Mrs. Parkes' gown was of sea mist green silk organza, with fischu collar and very full waltz length skirt. Her small hat was of flowers. Mrs. Winder, assisting in receiving, wore a sheath dress of Chantilly lace in French nude color with full overskirt of pure organza. Both wore lavender orchids.

Mrs. C. W. Gladney of Baton Rouge and Mrs. Fielder Calhoun asked the guests to sign the guest register.

The bride's table was covered with cut work cloths and centered with a crystal epergne filled with a delicate cascading arrangement of white carnations and stock with knots of satin ribbon and airy maline.

The exquisitely embossed wedding confection was served by Mrs. L. W. Zimmerman, of Jackson Heights, L. I., and Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson Jr. Dispensing punch were Mrs. O. S. Carpenter, Mrs. Robert Roberts Jr., Mrs. L. L. Davidge and Mrs. C. H. Shaffer. Assisting int he courtesies of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Levy, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Burghard, Mrs. Karl F. McCoy, Miss Susan Roberts, Miss Mickey Glankler of Alexandria, Miss Mary McHenry of Monroe, Mrs. Camille Despot, Mrs. W. J. McBride, Miss Sondra Hull, Mrs. Sam Webb Smith Jr., Mrs. Jack Williams, Mrs. Irion Lafargue of Abbeville, Miss Nell Davidge, Miss Carole Clark, Mrs. Paul E. Sippel Jr., Miss Margaret Hollingsworth, Miss Pat Short, Mrs. Carey L. Ratcliff, Mrs. O. K Brock, Miss Evelyn Winder and Miss Jerry Yauger.

When late in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Winder left on their honeymoon trip to Colorado Springs, she was wearing a costume suit of navy wool finished with crisp white linen collar and cuffs and a tiny white hat with navy accessories. She pinned her white wedding orchid at her shoulder. After their trip, they will be at home in New Orleans until Mr. Winder completes his medical studies.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Washburn and Miss Geneva Washburn, Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Gladney and Mrs. C. W. Gladney, Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Burghard, Houston; Mrs. L. W. Zimmerman, Jackson Heights, L. I., New York; Mrs. Louis Ratcliff, Shreveport and Temple, Tex.; Mrs. Mary R. Irvin, Temple; Mrs. Mary Stuart Deeter, Phoenix, Ariz.; Miss Mickey Glanker, Alexandria; Mrs. T. H. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Bush Gamble, James Gouaux and Jerry Schenken, New Orleans, and Miss Mary McHenry, Monroe.

Always use a kettle of adequate size when you are doing a lot of deep-fat frying and never fill it more than two-thirds full. When re-using the fat, add a small amount of fresh fat, to replace that lost in frying.

MRS. PAUL RATCLIFF WINDER

Purely Personal

Among the out-of-town guests in Monroe for the Montgomery-Munholland wedding last night are Dr. and Mrs. Walter Moss and their children, Charles, John Lee, Walter, Jr., Miss Mary Murphy Moss and Miss Olive Moss, of Lake Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sadler and Miss Sue Sadler of New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cochran and Miss Caroline Cochran of Tyler, Tex., Capt. and Mrs. John Munholland, Bettina, Peter and Raymond of Orange, Tex. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Blassingame and Mrs. Joseph Johnson of Memphis, Mrs. Gene Davis, Elizabeth and Ann Lidell Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts, and Charles, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barksdale and Fred, Jr., Miss Sally Pitts, Paul Rand Carlston and Mr. and Mrs. Grove Stafford, Jr., all of Alexandria. Among those driving from Ruston were Mr. and Mrs. Allen Guthrie and Allan Grayson Guthrie, Mrs. Allen Barksdale, Miss Dorothy Dell and Mary Helen Barksdale, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Connell and James and Clyde, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snellings, Jr. have as their guests this week end Mr. and Mrs. D'Arcy Harvey and their three daughters, Maureen, Ann and Laurette of Arlington, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wolk of University City, Mo. are the guests for several days of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherrouse. They are en route to Mexico for the summer.

Mrs. James Greenbaum arrived in Monroe Friday for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Strauss. She will join Lt. Greenbaum in New Orleans later where they are being transferred from Fort Eustis, Va.

Miss Caroline Peters, her house guest, Miss Sybil Muths, of Gulf Port, Miss., Bob Jones and Delmas Jackson will return to New Orleans today after spending the week end with their families. They are summer students at Tulane University.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Emerson are spending the week end in Baton Rouge as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McDonald. They attended the wedding of Sam Emerson yesterday afternoon there.

Mr. and Mrs. Echard Wheeler with Connie and Joe will leave early this week for a week's vacation at Fort Walton, Fla.

Guests of Mrs. M. M. Tabb this week are her grandchildren, Lee and Lewis Duncan who came yesterday from their home in Dallas. Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Riley, of Albany, N. Y. will arrive and later in the week Mrs. Sarah Tabb Duncan will join the family here. They will continue their visit for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Sciro and their daughter, Carol Ann, have returned from their vacation spent in the Ozarks. They were accompanied by Mrs. Chris Slavant. Joe Slavant, a student at L. S. U. is spending the summer vacation here with his mother, Mrs. Slavant.

Girl Scout News

Wouldn't it be interesting to look in on activities at Chicot State Park right now, where 128 senior Girl Scouts and their leaders are camping for two weeks? On a peninsula jutting out into the lake the girls have made an encampment where nothing was available to start with. The girls have come from all over region 5, from the Appalachian Council in eastern Tennessee, from New Orleans on the south, from Memphis and Little Rock and Jackson. Included in the group is a patrol consisting of six girls from our own council and two from Shreveport, with Ethel Easterling going as one of the counselors.

When station wagon and trailer left early Wednesday morning, the six Scouts were fulfilling a dream they had cherished for about a year. During that time Troop 14 had practiced their camping skills over and over and added many new ones. With the help of their mothers they made tents, water proofed them, slept in them at Pine Wood, at El Dorado with a group of other Scouts, and recently for three days in Mr. Jim Drew's pasture.

The girls tried out new recipes for outdoor cooking, learned espepecially about using charcoal, learned how to pack their clothes neatly and in a small space. Best of all, they had the experience of working in a patrol. The patrol system, used by Boy and Girl Scouts, will be followed in the living and working and playing arrangements for the whole camp.

Major emphasis of the camp will be on Louisiana folk lore, a nature trail, civil defense, and archaeology, with some top-flight specialists to help.

Robbie McClendon, who captivated girls and adults with her talk at the annual dinner, will help with the folk-lore activities. Of course, there will be time for other kinds of fun, too.

Nancy Breard is serving as the patrol leader of the Monroe group. She has been serving in that capacity all year, and attended the special week end of training at Camp Aldersgate in the spring. Other girls who left Wednesday are Daveen Barksdale, Betty Hines, Marie Nelson, Beverly Rushing, and Joanne Usrey.

Not only has troop 14 worked on the encampment plans during the year, but also attended the state senior Girl Scout conference in New Orleans, gave a style show and an assembly program and generally had fun together.

As a last of school activity they invited their mothers and the Girl Scout Council members to a tea, where they proved they are gracious hostesses as well as good outdoor girls.

We certainly wish them a happy encampment and hope that at least one will get to attend the senior roundup next June, a national event, the first of its kind the Girl Scouts have ever planned. More about that later.

Lt. James Thomas Harris, Jr. Takes Bride In Texarkana

Sunday afternoon at 5:00 p.m., in a beautiful candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist Church, Texarkana, Tex., Miss Marilyn Sue Springer, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stewart Springer, 2019 Pine Street, exchanged marriage vows with Lieutenant James Thomas Harris, Jr., son of the Reverend and Mrs. James Thomas Harris of Monroe.

The impressive ceremony was read by the Reverend D. D. McGaughy, pastor and the Reverend James Harris, Monroe.

The altar was decorated with large arrangements of white gladioli joined to hurricane globed candelabra along the Chancel Rail with satin streamers and bows. A large sun-burst arrangement of gladioli accented the white wrought iron wedding arch. Six pairs of candelabra holding white cathedral tapers furnished the only light for the impressive exchange of vows. The white Prieu Dieu was accented with hurricane globed candelabra and white satin streamers. Hurricane globed candelabra tied with white satin streamers lighted the two aisles of the church.

The lovely bride, who entered on the arm of her father, wore a floor length gown of Ecru Satin with a bouffant skirt of tulle ending in a flowing cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from clusters of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible, opened to the Book of Ruth, and marked with twin white Catalya Orchids entwined with white Frenched chrysanthemums and illusion. Dainty satin streamers were caught with love knots and white net.

Mrs. Bailor W. Atchley of Lufkin, Tex. served as Matron of honor. She was lovely in a waltz length dress of pale yellow French organdy. Her bouquet was of white shasta daisies entwined with English Ivy. Dainty showers of yellow and white streamers fell to the hem of her bouffant skirt. A miniature daisy bouquet was fastened to the underskirt of organdy.

Jane Greenwood of Shreveport, and Sandra Springer, cousin of the bride, of Dallas, Tex., were bridesmaids. They wore identical waltz length dresses of yellow French organdy. They carried bouquets of white shasta daisies accented with English Ivy.

Shelly Curry of Baton Rouge, served his brother-in-law as best man. Ushers were John Pierpont and Frank Harris, Jr., of Shreveport, and John Richert of Baton Rouge, and Frank Springer, Jr., brother of the bride, of Texarkana.

Candles were lighted by Dorothea Murzicos and Mrs. Bobby Culberson. They wore waltz length dresses of pale yellow nylon tulle. Their flowers, white shasta daisies, were worn at the wrist.

Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Edward Couch. She was assisted by Mrs. Warner Henderson, Jr., soloist.

Immediately following the ceremony the reception was held in the Palm Room of the Grim Hotel. The table was lovely with a cloth of white organdy with a bouffant skirt. The centerpiece was of white candytuft, white carnations, and white shasta daisies. The table was further enhanced at each corner with a lovely satin bow and summer greenery.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Springer chose a dress of blue lace. She wore a corsage of Pinocchio roses. Mrs. Harris, mother of the groom wore a dress of lilac lace. Her lowers were of Pinocchio roses.

Mrs. Harris graduated from Texarkana Texas junior high school and Texarkana College. She was graduated from Centenary College in Shreveport, where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. Lieutenant Harris graduated from Centenary College in Shreveport where he was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, an honorary fraternity.

He did graduate work at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge. He was graduated from officer's candidate school at Fort Sill, Okla.

Following a honeymoon through the Ozark Mountains Lieutenant and Mrs. Harris will be home at 404 Ferris Avenue, Lawton, Okla.

For going away, the bride chose a suit of natural linen. She wore a petite white bonnet and white accessories with the orchids from her corsage pinned at her shoulder.

Dante-Shelton Vows Are Said In Garden Ceremony

In one of the most impressive ceremonies of the season, Miss June Carolyn Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Shelton, became the bride of Morris Dante, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dante of Winnsboro on Sunday afternoon, June 12 at 4:30 o'clock in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lowentritt.

The impressive double ring ceremony was read by Rabbi F. K. Hirsch of Temple B'Nai Israel of Monroe in the presence of several hundred relatives and guests.

The natural setting of magnolia and oak trees, enhanced by a white latticed arbor covered with magnolia leaves and blossoms outlined the white altar. Tall wicker baskets with arrangements of white gladioli, stock and glysophilia flanked the altar. The aisle was outlined by wrought iron standards, placed at intervals and bearing old fashioned nosegays of white mums tied with silver ribbon and tulle, joined with wide bands of satin ribbon.

Miss Florence Lucille Pierce, cousin of the bride, of Indianapolis, Ind., accompanied by Mrs. C. L. Moore, Jr., sang "at Dawning" and "Because." Mrs. Moore also gave a pre-nuptial selection and played the traditional wedding marches.

Preceding the bride were her attendants, identically gowned in bouffant ballerina length models of white Swiss organdy embroidered with blue fleur-de-lis, fashioned along princess lines with which they wore pearls and white accessories. They carried parasols of pale blue tulle covered with white carnations. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Selwyn Dante of Columbia, Mrs. Huey Stein, Miss Jean Lowentritt, Miss Betty Jean Tarver, and Mrs. Tommy Tucker of Vidalia. The matron of honor, Mrs. W. E. Cooper, Jr., of Baton Rouge, wore a frock similar to the bridesmaids and carried a parasol covered with Alice blue tulle and blue carnations.

The bride, who entered with her father, wore an original Emily wedding gown of Moonglo satin and Chantilly lace, the deep net yoke of which was outlined by appliqued lace, opening down the back with tiny satin covered buttons. The long lace sleeves ended in points over the wrists. A lace peplum cascaded down the back in tiers of the lace. The skirt, worn over hoops, ended in a short sweep. She wore a Juliet cap of pearls and iridescents with a short veil of nylon net. She carried an arm bouquet of fleur de amour, stephanotis and lily of the valley and centered with a cattleya orchid.

The groom, with his twin brother, Jules, as best man, chose as his groomsmen his brother, Selwyn, his cousins, Raymond Wilenziek, Monroe, David Love, Lake Charles, Charles Dante, Dumas, Ark., and William Levine of Alexandria.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the garden. Guests were received by Mrs. Shelton, becomingly attired in pink lace, complemented with pink pearls, pink hat and white accessories. Mrs. Dante, also extending the courtesies, chose an Alice blue lace original with pink hat and pink accessories.

The bride's table of wrought iron and glass was centered by a four-tiered wedding cake developed in white and silver, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom under a canopy of wedding bells. Smaller blue net parasols covered with white feathered carnations, similar to those carried by the bridesmaids, were placed on either side of the cake. Reflected through the crystal top of the table could be seen an elaborate arrangement of white stock, gladioli, stephonotis.

Iced raspberry punch from twin punch bowls, presided over by Mrs. James Edward Smith and Mrs. James Ewell Martin of Monroe, and petits fours were served. The wedding cake was served by Miss Ann Riser. Tea girls were Misses Alma Ruth Murphy of Little Rock, Ark., Christine Lehman of Fayette, Miss. The bride's book for registration was in charge of Miss Nell Bridge of Monroe.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a pale blue two-piece polished cotton, short jacket embroidered in self-color and rhinestones. She wore a blue panne velvet hat trimmed in rhinestones and iridescents and white accessories and the white orchid from her bouquet.

The couple left via auto for a honeymoon on the Gulf Coast and Miami Beach where they will be guests at the Sherry - Frontenac Hotel. After their return they will be at home in Winnsboro until the groom is called to the armed service.

MRS. GEORGE EDWARD CHAPMAN

Miss Coates Weds George Chapman In Afternoon

The Brownville Methodist Church was the scene on June 3 of the marriage of Miss Mattie Lorene Coates to George Edward Chapman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Aulsie Coates and Mr. Chapman is the son of Robert Dalton Chapman both families of West Monroe.

Reverend Tillman A. Brown officiated.

Bouquets of white gladioli greenery and candles decorated the church. The aisles were marked with candles. Miss Betty Fisher was organist and Miss Betty Spurlock, soloist.

The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of lace over taffeta. The lace bolero had long sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible covered with pale pink rosebuds and stock.

Mrs. Johnnie Mitchell was her sister's maid of honor. Mrs. Edward DeLoach, another sister was the matron of honor. Miss Phoebe Miller was the bridesmaid. Their dresses were of taffeta with overskirts of tulle in yellow, rose and aqua. They wore matching bandeaux and carried bouquets of carnations. Priscilla Thompson and Linda Carol Chapman were the candlelighters.

Walter T. Graves served as best man. Groomsmen were George Evans and Edward DeLoach. Ushers included Billy Joe Thompson and Sherwood Kelly. Daisies decorated the Coates home where the reception was given. Mrs. Coates chose for her daughter's wedding a pink lace dress. Her corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother assisted in receiving and wore a dress of navy blue lace with a pink carnation corsage.

After a motor trip to points of interest in Mississippi Mr. and Mrs. Chapman will reside in San Francisco, Calif. The bride traveled in a light blue suit with navy accessories.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mrs. J. B. Thompson of Columbia Mr. and Mrs. Walter Halbert, Billy and Virginia Sue Halbert of Waterproof, Donnie Brown and Miss Sue Lovell of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Miss Halliburton Is Entertained

CROSSETT — Miss Barbara Halliburton, bride - elect of Mr. Don Gates of Crossett, was honored on Saturday afternoon, with a bridal tea. Hostesses for the afternoon affair were Mrs. Philip Gates, Mrs. Billy Rawls and Mrs. P. G. Gates, Jr. Mrs. William C. Norman poured.

Miss Halliburton is a native of Arkadelphia and a member of the faculty of the Crossett Public School system.

Miss Coon's Parties Claim Social Interest

One of the outstanding afternoon tea's to be given during the bridal season this year was held Thursday afternoon between the hours of three and six for Miss Martha Ann Coon by Mrs. John Elton Coon and Mrs. J. Norman Coon.

Entering the ballroom of the Virginia Hotel invited guests were greeted by Mrs. Eunice Williamson, Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, Mrs. Fred Coon, Miss Sara Hair, Mrs. C. E. Buckley and Mrs. E. A. Guyton, who alternated in their respective positions.

More than 500 guests called during the tea hours.

Receiving with the two hostess' were the honoree, Mrs. Henson S. Coon and Mrs. A. E. Culpepper.

Miss Coon chose a pink lace dress complimented by a lovely corsage. Her mother wore an afternoon dress of black lace over rose beige.

Decorations in the ballroom centered around a green and white color scheme. Baskets of magnolias and white stock were placed at vantage points to centralize the overall decorations.

Miss Joan Terry, of Pine Bluff, Ark., presided over the bride's book. The table featured a floral combination of white gladiolas, daisies, variegated aspidistra and caladium leaves.

The dominating scene in the ballroom was the tea table. Featuring a tiered arrangement in sterling holders were graduated selections of green fern and gardenias. The larger gardenias were used on the lower tier with green fern while the top tier held dwarf specimens entwined with fever few. Large punch bowls were placed at opposite ends of the tea table complemented by English ivy and gardenias to accentuate the serving dishes. An imported linen tea cloth, with mosaic and solid Mederia design, graced the table.

Throughout the appointed hours organ music was rendered by Mrs. C. L. Dillingham, Mrs. W. C. Hopkins, Mrs. E. E. Lawson, and Mrs. R. T. Bliss.

Alternating at the punch bowl were Mrs. A. W. Thompson, Mrs. O. L. Whitten, Mrs. Ralph Payne, Mrs. Clyde Graves, Mrs. Fred Coon, Jr., Mrs. M. L. Mitchell, Jr. and Mrs. Don Guyton.

Assisting with the courtesies were Miss Clara Ann Starnes, Miss Mary Coon, Miss Lana Kay Taylor, Miss Donna Guyton, and Miss Molly Shelton.

Morning Party

Miss Coon, was also entertained Wednesday morning at a seated Coke hour in the home of Mrs. Arlis Caldwell on Bell Avenue with Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Clyde Graves of Utica, Miss., and Mrs. Ned Duval, Jr. of Houston, Tex., hostesses.

Receiving with Mrs. Caldwell and the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Henson Coon, and Mrs. Elmer Culpepper, mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Graves, and Mrs. Duval.

An arrangement of aspidistra and arbor vitae in hogarth design with variegated hosta, ivy and caladium leaves as the center of interest was used in the sun room.

The living room mantel was decorated with a mass arrangement of red roses surrounded with large daisies with ivy completing the design. A miniature umbrella of gold topped with dainty pink roses and blue forget-me-nots surrounded with pink net and dainty ribbon streamers was used on the coffee table. A vertical arrangement of aspidistra leaves, ivy, and large daisies was also used in the living room.

The serving table was overlaid with a delicate nile green damask cloth and held a crystal epergne of large white caladium leaves, daisies and ivy arranged in a formal pattern.

Assisting with the courtesies were Mrs. C. E. Buckley, Miss Mary Coon, and Miss Lana Kay Taylor of Conway, Ark.

The honor guest chose for the party a becoming brown linen trousseau model fashioned with beige trimming which accented the simplicity of the straight shirt and neckline. Miss Coon was presented by the hostesses a corsage of yellow talisman roses.

Enjoying the party with the hostesses and honor guest were: Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. Elmer Culpepper, Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Mrs. E. E. Eaves, Mrs. Sam Humphries, Mrs. Morris Harrison, Mrs. G. F. Becker, Mrs. J. R. Coulter, Mrs. R. B. Henry, Mrs. A. L. Dickerson, Mrs. A. M. Guerriero, Mrs. W. G. Haynes, Mrs. J. P. Lewis, Mrs. J. H. Scogin, Jr., Mrs. J. F. Stone, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Mrs. J. MRS. JOHN ROLAND KELLEY

Kelly-Melton Nuptials Said In Plaquemine

[illegible] Baptist Church [illegible] was the scene of the candlelight double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. T. Earl Ogg at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening uniting in marriage Miss Ann Wesley Branch and John Roland Kelley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton W. Branch, Rt. 4, Box 444, Monroe. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kelley, Jr., of Monroe.

Officiating at the ceremony were [illegible] Rev. Connie Ward, Baptist minister. White was predominant also in the chapel decorations, as it was in the dress of the bride and her attendants.

The full candelabra [illegible] of the double-ring ceremony were lighted by Messrs. Jackie Hulsey and Dudley Nicholas. In addition to the candles, white gladioli and greenery were banked at the altar, with alternate pews [illegible] knots of candle and greenery knotted with white satin garland.

Nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. C. L. Dillingham at the organ. She also accompanied Miss Jane Blanchard who sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest." The myriad yellow tapers on the flower-banked altar were lighted by Mrs. Don Smothers and Mrs. W. E. Kelley, Jr. Mr. W. E. Kelley, Jr., brother of the groom, served as best man. Other groomsmen were Mr. Don Smothers and Rev. Connie Ward.

The bride, who entered on the arm of her father, chose traditional white for her wedding gown. The ballerina length model was fashioned of chantilly lace and sheer with a short veil of illusion held in place with a cap of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow cymbidiums on a white prayer book. She also carried out the tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed, and something blue.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Nell Rogers, who wore a waltz length blue lace and carried an arm bouquet of yellow asters and baby mums.

Miss Jo Ann Carso and Miss Barbara Rogers, bridesmaids, also wore blue lace models and carried bouquets of yellow asters and baby mums. Miss Judy Branch, who served her sister as junior bridesmaid, wore a blue lace and net model and carried a yellow bouquet.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Alton W. Branch, chose a blue lace model complemented with a corsage of yellow mums, while Mrs. W. E. Kelley, mother of the groom, wore a gray lace model and corsage of yellow mums.

The bride, who is a life-long resident of Monroe, graduated from Neville High School and later studied at Northeast Louisiana State College. The groom is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School, Bergen Junior College of New Jersey and received a bachelor of science degree from Northeast Louisiana State College.

Immediately following the ceremony the wedding party moved to the church parlor and formed a receiving line for the reception that followed.

Miss Patsy Jean Dean presided ta the bride's book. Cut glass punch bowls placed at both ends of the flower-bedecked table were presided over by Mrs. Walter Mangham and Mrs. Roland Brown. Mrs. D. C. Black cut and served the three-tiered wedding cake.

The bride changed to an avocado green linen model with white accessories for traveling. She wore a corsage of white cymbidiums at the shoulder. The young couple left immediately after the reception by motor car for New York City and New Jersey, where they will reside for the next three months, returning to Louisiana in September to attend Louisiana State University at which time the groom will work toward his masters degree. The bride will also continue her studies.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were: Mrs. W. E. Kelley of New York City, Mrs. G. C. Fedder of Baton Rouge, Mrs. J. H. Pankey and Harry Pankey of Ferriday, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Branch of Natchez.

MRS. WILLIAM GRADY KELLY, JR.

College Place Church Is Scene Of Kelly-Branch Vows

College Place Baptist Church was the setting for the candlelight service in which Miss Ann Wesley Branch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton W. Branch, became the bride of Rev. John Roland Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kelley, at 7:30 Friday evening. Rev. T. Earl Ogg performed the impressive double-ring ceremony.

REV. AND MRS. FRANK MOBLEY

Collins-Mobley Vows Said In Winnfield

The First Baptist Church of Winnfield was the scene Wednesday afternoon, June 1, at 3:00 p.m. of the double ring ceremony which united in marriage, Miss Bobbie Jean Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Collins of Winnfield, and Rev. Frank Mobley, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Mobley, Sr. of this city.

Dr. W. L. Holcomb heard the vows before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and green ivy and lighted by tapers burning in double candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony, the candles were lighted by James Lloyd Collins, brother of the bride and Ballard Lee Smith.

Miss Edith Ann McDaniel rendered a program of nuptial music at the organ and accompanied Jim Norwood who sang.

Mrs. D. E. Shirley was matron of honor and Miss Joy Nell Walker was maid of honor. They wore identical floor length gowns of moss green antique taffeta, featuring a scooped neck and empire waistline. Their mitts and pearl studded hats were of a matching shade and they carried bouquets of rose asters on green net fans.

Bridesmaids were Miss Helene Mobley, sister of the groom, Miss Bonnie Jean Harrel, Miss Margaret Ann LaCaze, Miss Dolores Hammond, and Miss Dale Moss. They wore dresses like those of the honor attendants, of a lighter shade of green, and carried bouquets of pink asters on green net fans.

Miss Brenda Haddox and Miss Linda Faye Smith, flower girls, wore floor length dresses of pale green antique taffeta with short sleeves and low scooped neckline. They wore a pearl necklace and hair corsages of tiny pink daisies. They carried white satin baskets trimmed in green satin ribbon.

Stevie Shelton served as ring bearer.

D. H. Mobley attended his son as best man and ushers were Charles McBeth, Stanley Lott, Dewey H. Mobley, Jr., brother of the bridegroom, Clyde Fulton, Shelton Collins, brother of the bride, and Glen Evans.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin with an imported Chantilly lace bodice trimmed in seed pearls, and fitted sleeves terminating in points over her hands. The full skirt, cut on princess lines, fell into a graceful chapel train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was attached to a fitted cap of lace edged with pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid and mounted on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Collins chose a pink linen and lace dress with rhinestone trim, with which she wore a pink hat and white accessories. Her corsage wa of white carnations. Mrs. Mobley, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a beige linen and lace dress and wore pink and beige accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Collins were hosts at a reception in the church parlors which were decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and ivy. The bridesmaids bouquets formed a centerpiece for the piano.

The brides table, which was covered with a white satin cloth, trimmed with ivy and green satin bows was centered with a reflector on which the brides bouquet was placed. On either side burned tall white tapers, decorated with pink roses, in double crystal candlesticks. At one end of the table was the tiered wedding cake which was decorated with pale pink roses and was topped with a miniature bride and groom and wedding bells. The crystal punch service was placed on the opposite end. Mrs. Billy Roy Snider served the cake and Miss Carole Thomas presided at the punch bowl. Tea girls included Miss Eva Louise Shirley, Miss Betty Jane Grizz, Miss Judy Maxey, Miss Dorothy Ann Tomlinson, and Miss Mitzi Roberts.

Miss Helen Lynn LaCroix invited guests to sign the brides book.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Ferguson, Paradise; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Roy Snider, Pineville; Mrs. Ballard Smith, Ballard Lee and Linda Faye, Sulphur; Mrs. D. E. Shirley, Silsbee, Tex.; Miss Carole Thomas, Roanoke; Miss Margaret Ann LaCaze, Pine Prairie; Miss Dolores Hammons, Forrest; Miss Helene Mobley, Dewey H. Mobley, Jr., Charles McBeth, Clyde Fulton, Miss Betty Patterson, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Mobley, Monroe; Stanley Lott, and Miss Johnny Foshee, Natchitoches; Mrs. L. E. Norwood and Jim Norwood, Columbia; Miss Carolyn Roberts, Leecmpte; Miss Jo Lou Swanson, Alexandria; Mrs. G. C. Grigg and Miss Betty Jane Grigg, Bienville; Miss Eva Louise Shirley, Jennings; and Mrs. J. W. Maxey, Calvin.

MRS. CHRIS CLIFTON KIMBELL, JR.

Valerie Willis Becomes Bride Of C. C. Kimbell

In a setting of white flowers and pink tapers, Wednesday evening, June 1, in the First Baptist church, of Oak Grove, Miss Valerie Olive Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hardy Willis, became the bride of Chris Clifton Kimbell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kimbell, of Homer, La. The Rev. J. D. Cheatham officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

White gladioli and mums in numerous arrangements decorated the altar, alternating with seven-branched candelabras burning pink tapers. A semi - circle of white lattice, extending the full width of the altar, interlaced with ivy and fern and topped with closely spaced cathedral candles, cast a soft glow over the altar.

Miss Dee Hamilton, at the organ, rendered a prelude of nuptial music. She accompanied Mrs. Cherie E. Major, of Kilbourne, and Maxie Bailey, soloists.

The bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore a gown of blush pink Italian satin and embroidered nylon tulle, with off-shoulder neckline and long tight-fitting sleeves. The closely-molded bodice featured a yoke of embroidered tulle embellished in seed pearls and irridescent sequins. A three - tier peplum of satin, extended from the sides of the voluminous tulle skirt, formed an exquisite effect of a train. Her veil of pure silk illusion fell from a blush satin headdress accented with seed pearls and sequins. Her bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white stephanotis.

Rose crystalette fashioned the dress of the maid of honor, Miss Mary Ann Dayton, of Jena. The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Vinyard, of Olla, and Miss Mary Alice Thomas and Miss Shirley Zumbro. Their identical floor-length dresses were fashioned with off - shoulder neckline and full skirts. They wore cummerbunds of a deeper shade. The wide ends of the sash draped over the back of the skirt, giving an effect similar to that of the bride's gown. Each carried a hand bouquet of pink asters. The flower girl, little Dianne Kimbell, niece of the groom, wore a matching pink crystalette floor-length dress and sash tied in a large butterfly bow. Dr. William Kimbell, of Ruston, served his brother as best man and the ushers were Don Major, of Kilbourne, Bill Patterson, of Ruston, Leon Barnard, of Haynesville, and William L. Willis, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the American Legion home of Oak Grove. Graceful arrangements of white gladioli and white mums adorned the reception room. Rows of pink tapers, nestled in magnolia leaves, burned over the mantle and piano.

Mrs. H. M. Thomas and Mrs. Harry Rountree, Jr., greeted the guests at the entrance of the reception room and presented them to the bride and groom, the mother of the bride, the parents of the groom, the grandmothers of the bride and the members of the wedding party.

The bride's table was covered with white satin with an overdrape of white illusion. The table was centered with the four - tier wedding cake embossed with pink roses and spun sugar wedding bells. Crystal candelabras holding tall pink tapers were at each end of the table. Mrs. T. D. Waters, Jr., was in charge of the cake service.

One table, centered with the bride's bouquet and flanked on either side by silver candelabras holding pink tapers, held the twin punch bowls. This was presided over by Mrs. Marvin Lipp and Miss Linda Rountree.

Music during the reception, was rendered by Miss Mary Pat Littlefield, of Kilbourne, while Carole Ann Thomas presented the guests with pink tulle bags containing pink rice. Others assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Edgar McCormick, Mrs. Arden Smith, Mrs. C. E. Major, Miss Dee Hamilton, Mrs. Warrington Wright, and Mrs. J. D. Cheatham.

Tea girls were Carole Ann Thomas, Virginia Stroud, Carolyn McCormick, Gail Sawyer, Carolyn Ann Everett and Betsy Rountree.

Following the reception the bride and groom left on a short trip. For travelling, Mrs. Kimbell chose a blue imported cotton dress with a two - piece effect, a white nylon and straw hat, white reptile shoes and bag. Her corsage was the white orchid from her wedding bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Ruston where they are attending Louisiana Tech.

Out - of - town guests were Mrs. W. F. Everett, Miss Carolyn Ann Everett, of Bastrop; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Browden, of Winnsboro; Mrs. Dave Tarpley, James Kimbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimbell, Chris Kimbell, Sr., of Homer; Miss Doris Wactor, of Terry; Mrs. Fred Phillips, Mrs. Eva Richmond, of Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Buron A. Bayles, of Lake Providence; Mrs. Robert Sanders, of Forest; Mrs. Bill Kimbell and Donna, of Ruston; Mrs. W. H. Baker, of Winnfield; Mrs. W. F. Willis, of Montgomery; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. McGoodwill; Mrs. Walter Sanders, Miss Velma Albritton, S. E. Major, Mrs. Philip Littlefield, Miss Mary Pat Littlefield, Mrs. Philip Dosher, Miss Kay Dosher, Miss Phyllis Dosher, Mrs. T. E. Albritton, all of Kilbourne.

Miss Sarah Ilene Byrne Marries Payton Parker, Jr.

NATCHEZ—St. Mary's Cathedral in Natchez was the setting Saturday morning, June 11, at 11 o'clock for the wedding of Miss Sarah Ilene Byrne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin John Byrne, of this city, to Joseph Peyton Parker, Jr., of Baton Rouge, the son of Mrs. Cecile Davis Parker and Joseph Peyton Parker, of Monroe.

The Reverend Donald Byrnes performed the double ring ceremony before a large assemblage of friends and relatives of the young couple.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Prior to this a program of traditional nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Roman Derdeyn, organist and Tom Glennon, soloist.

Miss Elanor Byrne served her sister as matron of honor while the bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Wyatt, of Chicago, Ill., sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Richard Durkin, Mrs. Donald Byrne, Miss Caroline Benoist, Miss Lorna Lynn Purnell, and Miss Ethel Green.

Serving as flower girls were Miss Sybil Byrne, and Miss Rebecca Ann Ramsey.

Serving as best man was Lynn Meridith, while the groomsmen included: Dufour Wolfie, Jack Steele, Richard Talbot, and Richard Hightower. Serving as ushers were Donald Byrne, Tony Byrne, Paul Byrne, Jr., and Bill Byrne, Jr. Altar boys were Frank Byrne and Stephen Smith.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents on South Pine Street.

After the reception the young couple left on a wedding trip to points along the Gulf Coast and upon their return will make their home in Baton Rouge.

If you want a fine upstanding pie crust, be sure to roll out the pie dough one inch larger than the inverted pie pan. This will give you enough pastry to work with when you seal and flute the edge.

MRS. DAVE G. WHITE

White-Monk Vows Said In Home Ceremony

Miss Caralen Eloise Monk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Monk, became the bride of Dave G. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clebarne White, in an impressive ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Billy White in Clarendon, Tex. at two-thirty Sunday afternoon, June 5.

The Rev. Roland Jinkins, pastor of Lelia Lake Baptist Church, officiated.

The couple plighted their vows before an improvised altar featuring two large floor standards of white and pink gladioli. At points in the living and dining area were mass arrangements of rose buds and white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Rabun Monk, was wearing a white Swiss organdy model over taffeta with a low rolled neckline and small Juliet cap with a short veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and pink carnations on a white Bible.

Mrs. Arodth White, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Her gown was of jonquil yellow organza with a scoop neckline and full skirt. Her corsage was of orchid carnations.

Mr. Billy White served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride's mother chose for the occasion a pink linen model with matching accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was becomingly attired in a pink lace dress with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses.

A reception followed in the White home.

A white linen cloth overlaid the bride's table which held nosegay bouquets of pink rose buds, the three-tiered wedding cake and punch service.

Miss Christine Shields served the cake and Miss Janice Christal presided at the punch bowl with Mrs. Bobbie Floyd assisting.

The couple departed on a wedding trip to New Orleans following the reception.

The bride is a graduate of Lelia Lake High School.

The bridegroom finished at Ouachita Parish High School and is employed at Climax, Colo., where they will make their home.

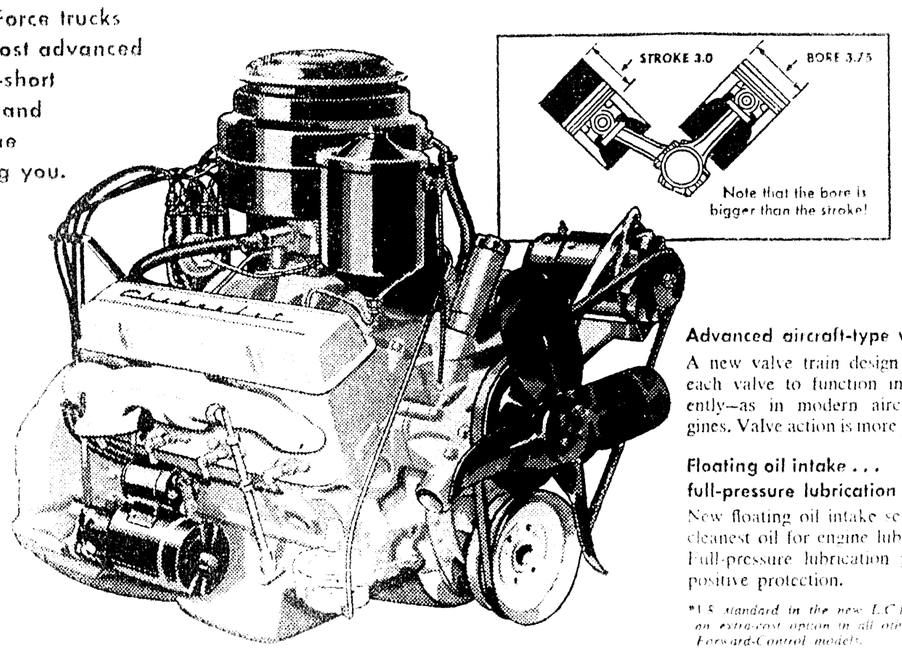
MOST Modern V8 FOR YOUR JOB!

NOW...THE SHORTEST STROKE V8's IN ANY LEADING TRUCK!

Now new Chevrolet Task-Force trucks bring you the industry's most advanced V8 engines* with an ultra-short stroke for reduced friction and wear. Here are some of the modern features they bring you.



Modern 12-volt electrical system
You get double the punch for quicker starting and more efficient ignition. Also you have a greater reserve of electrical power.

Gas-saving high-compression ratio
With a high 7.5 to 1 compression ratio, Chevrolet's new V8 truck engines squeeze extra power and work out of every tankful of gas. Hauling costs go down!

Extra-high power per pound
Compact, super-efficient design results in high power output per pound of engine weight. This means more useable power!

Advanced aircraft-type valves
A new valve train design permits each valve to function independently—as in modern aircraft engines. Valve action is more positive.

Floating oil intake . . . full-pressure lubrication

*U.S. standard in the new L.C.F. models, an extra-cost option in all others except Forward-Control models.

MRS. THOMAS YATES

Miss Patrick Is Bride Of Thomas Yates

WINNSBORO — In an impressive ceremony at four o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Holly Ridge Baptist Church, Miss Earline Fay Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patrick of Holly Ridge, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Yates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleto Yates of Delhi.

The impressive double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. F. Kelly, pastor of the Newton Baptist Church.

Entering on the arm of her father the lovely bride was wearing a bridal gown of white lace. Soft folds of white lace marked a sweetheart neckline filled in with net and a tiny collar buttoned at her throat. Her fitted bodice buttoned down the front with tiny self-covered buttons. Long fitted sleeves ended in points over her hands. A full gathered skirt fell into a train from her fitted bodice and a juliet cap caught up her veil of illusion. She carried a bridal bouquet.

The maid of honor was Miss Johnnie Watson of Winnsboro who was wearing an ocean-blue ballerina length dress of net. She carried a bouquet of painted daisies to match her dress.

Miss Jane Toney and Miss Juanita Kenly, both of Holly Ridge served the bride as maids. They wore identical dresses of sky-blue net and carried a bouquet of white and pink painted daisies.

Serving the groom as best man was Merritt Dearman of Delhi, and groomsmen were Edward Cox and L. C. Spense of Jackson, Miss.

A lovely arch of greenery entwined with tiny pink roses was placed at the center of the rostrum and a white wedding bell fell from the center of the arch. Two floor-length silver baskets holding white lilies flanked the arch on each side.

The arrangement was repeated again at the piano where a mirror arch and bell were placed with white candles on either side.

Miss Evelyn Cooper rendered the traditional bridal music and also played for the soloist, Mrs. Kelly Patrick, who sang. Candle lighters were Claudie Patrick and Buddy Yates.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Patrick chose a pink linen ensemble and a corsage of red. The bridegroom's mother was wearing a navy blue silk with black accessories and a white corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Mary Arender. The lovely arrangements of white lilies were used again here. A three tiered wedding confection centered the bride's table which was presided over by Mrs. Neil Womble, Jr. Miss Francis McKnight served the punch and Miss Marie Toney presided over the bride's book.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a becoming blue dress with princess lines and wore beige accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride attended Holly Ridge High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Delhi High School.

The couple will make their home in Jackson, Miss.

May-Barnett Vows Said In Oak Grove

Miss Jeanette May, daughter of Mrs. Caddie May and Owen B. Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barnett were married on June 9 at 6:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church in Oak Grove where both families make their home, by Reverend J. D. Cheatham.

Floor baskets of white gladioli, shasta daisies and greenery with burning tapers decorated the church. Mrs. J. D. Butler, organist accompanied Miss Elizabeth Goza, soloist.

The bride given in marriage by her brother-in-law, J. B. Brown of Monroe, wore a dress of white embroidered organza with small white hat trimmed in lace, sequins and seed pearls. She carried a lace covered Bible topped with an orchid.

Miss Patricia May, of Shreveport, was her sister's maid of honor. Her dress was of pink organza and she carried a bouquet of rose colored gladioli.

Sidney Barnett was his brother's best man and Paul Crain and H. L. Monroe served as ushers.

A reception was held in the recreation room of the church. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with white carnations and fern. The wedding cake, decorated in pink and green was served by Mrs. Sidney Barnett, Mrs. H. L. Monroe, sister of the bridegroom, poured punch and was assisted by Mrs. J. B. Brown of Monroe, sister of the bride. Mrs. Mary Lou Thames registered the guests.

MRS. HOLLIE CHILDRESS

Cole-Childress Vows Pledged In Church Ceremony

The Noel Memorial Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Florrinell Cole, of Shreveport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cole of West Monroe and Hollie Childress, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Childress of Mansfield. Reverend John Rasmussen, pastor, officiated at the ceremony, which took place on Friday, June 3 at 8 p.m. before an altar decorated with arrangements of yellow gladioli. Prior to the ceremony the candles were lighted by Miss Dean Caldwell and Miss Mary Ann England, both of Shreveport.

Robert Hallquist rendered a program of nuptial music.

Miss Barbara Childress of Mansfield was the bride's only attendant. She wore a street length princess dress of pastel yellow.

Bobby Clyde Brawley served the bridegroom as best man and the ushers were Edward J. Sackett of Fairbanks, Whit T. White, Bossier City and Jesse C. Dean of Plain Dealing.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a waltz length gown of white nylon lace over bridal satin with a shoulder length veil of nylon tulle. She carried a white testament topped with gardenias and stock.

Small fry like this dish. Cook chopped beef lightly in a skillet and mix with cream sauce. If lean beef is used, add a little fat to the skillet when you are cooking it, but not too much!

For weight - watchers: Try yogurt over salad greens. The yogurt may be mixed with a little minced onion and paprika if you like.

Presbyterians Plan To Celebrate Centennial

The second of a series of special services to be held during 1955 commemorating one hundred years of Presbyterianism in Monroe will be on Sunday, June 26 at 11 a.m. when Doctor Benjamin Rice Lacy, Jr., will be the guest speaker at the First Presbyterian Church. He will preach at the 8:30 and 11:00 a.m. services.

Doctor Lacy is one of the most prominent figures in the Southern Presbyterian Church. He is now, and has been since 1926, president and professor of homiletics of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond Va.

He was born in Raleigh, N. C., July 29, 1886, the son of Benjamin Rice and Mary Burwell Lacy, and has relatives in El Dorado, Ark. and Monroe. Mrs. S. G. Humble, 324 Auburn Avenue, Monroe, the oldest member of the First Presbyterian Church, is his second cousin. After receiving his elementary education from Raleigh Male Academy he entered Davidson College graduating in 1906 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. While at Davidson he won a Rhodes scholar appointment to Oxford University in England. His was the distinction of being the first Davidson College student to receive this coveted award.

He graduated from Oxford in 1910 with a B. A. degree in modern history. That fall he entered Union Theological Seminary at Richmond and in 1913 was graduated with the degree of bachelor of divinity. His record was so outstanding named as the Moses D. Hoge Fellow and Instructor in Church History for the following year. He was ordained to the ministry of the Presbyterian church in the United States in 1914.

In addition to his academic degrees Dr. Lacy has been awarded the following honorary degrees: D. D., Davidson College, 1919; LL.D. Hampden Sidney College, 1929; D. D., Duke University, 1934; LL.D. University of North Carolina, 1948; Doctor Honoris Causi, University of Montpellier, France. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kapna, Kappa Alpha and Hermitage Country Club, Richmond and Board of Trustees of Hampden Sidney.

Doctor Lacy's first ministerial assignment was as home missionary, Wake County, North Carolina, from 1914 to 1917. He was commissioned a captain in the Army's Chaplain Corps in 1917 and assigned to the 113th field artillery of the 30th division. He served in that capacity in France and in the Army of Occupation, being discharged in 1919. After he returned to the United States he accepted the pastorate of the Central Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, where he remained until 1926. It was during that year he was elected president of Union Theological Seminary, his present assignment.

In addition to the other honors conferred on him Doctor Lacy was chairman of the church's defense service council during World War II, American Representative to the International Conference on Theological Education, Geneva, Switzerland, in 1948, and in 1950 received the highest honor in the church—moderator of The General Assembly. He is the author of a book well known in Presbyterian circles entitled "Revivals in the Midst of the Years."

Dr. Lacy married Miss Emma E. White in 1919. She died in 1947 leaving five children. Presbyterians and members of all faiths are invited to hear and meet this outstanding minister and educator.

REVIVAL PIANIST Helen Tucker is the pianist for the tent revival now under way at Danville, La. The revival is reported to be drawing large crowds nightly.

Ridge Ave. Bible School Directed By Skilled Head

Attendance in the Vacation Bible School at Ridge Avenue Baptist church has been highly pleasing to those in charge, states Rev. A. T. Mitchell. Two hundred sixty-three have been enrolled. Miss Irene Dopkin is in charge and has the following teachers and workers:

Mrs. C. L. Teddlie, Mrs. Woods, Mrs. C. D. Brock, Mrs. Barbara Colvin, Mrs. Pardue, Mrs. L. L. Bishop, Mrs. Mazzanna, Mrs. D. B. Gee, Mrs. Mae O'Quinn, Mrs. C. C. Driskell, Mrs. L. H. Rowan, Mrs. G. P. Bonnette, Mrs. A. W. White, Mrs. J. S. Ashley, Mrs. H. L. King, Mr. W. L. Foster, Mrs. W. C. Dunlap, Mrs. J. P. Holtzclaw, Mrs. J. D. Smith, Mrs. Cobb Sawyer, Joe Jean Fennell, Arcelia Richie, Pat Jones, Deanne Martin, Mrs. H. H. Melhoom, Mrs. R. L. Hollstead, Mrs. C. A. Nicholson, Mrs. Irvin Waller, Mrs. A. D. Harris, Mrs. Maud Chandler, Mrs. Mattie McGraw, Mrs. A. C. Simpson, Mrs. J. E. Mackechnie and Mrs. Sam Perkin.

The school will close tonight with a program by the children, their teachers and workers. It has been the most successful school in the history of the church with 7 professions of faith.

Miss Dopkin is not only organized principal for children's Bible schools, states Rev. A. T. Mitchell, but is a good child evangelist. She illustrates her work with pictures, tells stories and a sermon suited to children.

44 Attend Alto First Baptist Vacation School

A one week vacation Bible school at the Alto First Baptist church ended Friday with 44 children in attendance.

Rev. Robert Rimes To Officiate With His First Mass

Temple Baptists Celebrate Ninth Birthday Today

On June 19th, 1946 a small group of Baptists gathered together on the southside of Monroe and organized themselves into a Baptist Church. They chose the name of Temple Baptist Church as the name of the new organization.

For a short time the group met in the Rackdall Faulk School building until their building located at Plum and South First could be erected. The first building was an auditorium and this was followed with an educational annex.

Today the church will celebrate its ninth birthday. Rev. E. L. Averette, organizer and first pastor will preach the sermon at the eleven o'clock hour. The pastor, W. Leon Ivey, will speak at the evening hour.

Rev. Averette served as pastor for a short time and was followed by Rev. Jerry Autrey, Rev. Alfred Schwab was the third pastor. Rev. W. Leon Ivey became pastor on January 1, 1952 and has served the church since then.

An old fashioned dinner will be served after the morning service. All friends and former members are invited to come and bring a lunch and enjoy the fellowship and worship with the members.

The church auditorium is being air conditioned and it is hoped to have the units in operation for the first time Sunday. Every member is being asked to bring a birthday present Sunday to help make the payment on the air conditioning units. They are asked to give in units of nine.

It is hoped to have a record attendance in Sunday school Sunday. The present record is 417.

During the nine years the church has purchased a parsonage and has added almost 5000 square feet of floor space to the educational facilities of the church. The present membership is 518.

Ground Breaking Set Today For Memorial Church

The Memorial Methodist church will hold ground - breaking ceremonies today at 11 a.m. There will be a sermon by Rev. James T. Harris, superintendent of the Monroe district of the Methodist church as guest preacher. Construction of the new sanctuary will start at once.

The contract was let last week in the amount of $107,000. The new sanctuary will complete the plan adopted eight years ago when work began on the present education building. Seating more than four hundred, the new edifice will also house additional church school rooms, a parlor, offices and equipment rooms.

Leading in the services Sunday will be the pastor, Rev. Ralph Cain, and the board of trustees and building committee composed of W. B. Mann, W. W. Stevens, J. Herbert Walker, E. L. Sinclair, Robert F. Farr, John C. Loftin, Harold Bates, Mrs. W. A. Cotton, E. C. Rocean. The adult choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Estelle Sanders, and the junior choir, directed by Mrs. Keaner Willis, will offer special anthems for the occasion.

The WSCS of the church will have its officers and leaders installed at the Sunday evening service and will be responsible for the church board's attendance program for the service. The new film, "Sound of a Stone," will be shown.

REVIVAL SET

A revival will be held at the Antioch Methodist Church on the Jonesboro Road June 20th through 26th according to the pastor, Rev. Leon Mercer.

Rev. Roy Grant of Bernice will conduct the revival.

REV. UDELL SMITH

First Baptist To Open Revival Services Today

First Baptist Church, Monroe, Dr. James T. Horton, pastor, will begin its summer youth-led revival today continuing through the following Sunday.

Rev. Udell Smith, state B. S. U. director and popular youth speaker, will be the evangelist. The music will be under the able leadership of Dale Martha. Morning services will be held at the early but refreshing hour of seven o'clock, after which coffee and donuts will be served in the social center. Evening services will begin at 7:45.

Rev. Smith has spoken to student and youth groups over the southland and has led in city-wide revival campaigns for the past six years. During his college days he was president of the Pi Kappa Delta, the campus speech fraternity, and was selected to preach the annual student sermon.

He was the youngest man to be made an honorary citizen of New Orleans. Director of the 11,000 Baptist students in the state of Louisiana he has addressed students on over a hundred college and university campuses.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: I am a young man about to graduate from high school. I believe that God is calling me to preach, but I am not sure. How can I be assured that this is a genuine call from God? J. O.

ANSWER: A call to the ministry, or to any specialized form of Christian service consists of three factors.

First, an inward impression. This impression must be made up of a knowledge of the task and the need, and a knowledge of the fact that you are ready and willing to give yourself to the accomplishment of the task.

Second, a reasonable fitness. If you are physically incapable of the hardships of service, or mentally unqualified the call cannot be considered complete.

Third, an open door. You may be both willing and able, and yet lacking in opportunity. Always remember that God is the one who gives the open door. Sometimes He may give the impression only to discover your willingness. Look for the opportunity, and the opportunity will confirm your belief in the call.

Remember, it is better to give yourself to the call, and have the door close, than not to give yourself. Finally, whenever is done, make sure that you have sought the will of God, and not your own ambition or pleasure.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Auburn & North Second St.
"Is The Universe, Including Man, Evolved By Atomic Force?" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, Sunday, June 19, 1955.
The Golden Text is: "Ah Lord God: Behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee." (Jer. 32:17).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions" (Eccl. 7:29).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The notion of a material universe is utterly opposed to the theory of man as evolved from Mind." (545).
Listen to a 15 minute radio broadcast Sunday at 7:45 a.m. over Radio Station KNOE.

Bible Answers

BY PERCY LEE KEENE

Sponsored by Church of Christ, 1100 Jackson St., Monroe, 401 Slack St., West Monroe and Bawcomville Congregation on Jonesboro Road.

QUESTION: Bro. Keene do you believe we should force our children to go to church?

ANSWER: Let me clear up one thing in your question. I think we should talk more about going to worship God than merely going to Church. If you are a member of the Church of our Lord Jesus Christ you should a rendez with the other members of the Church to worship. I think the statement of "going to Church" is rather foreign to Bible language. Let us say go to worship.

Now to answer the question. Yes, we should force our children to worship. It comes to the point of making them go, when we could do that. But we have not to do when you have set up in the manner and example that you should.

We are under the command to teach our children. Our children are to be taught to love God and keep His commandments. Deut. 6:4-9. Just because we take a notion to go to church does not mean that we will continue them at the age of twenty-one.

In answering this question it must be consistent. By example and precept you can show her that worshiping is a necessity. In later years she will thank you for bringing into her life the greatest values a mature person can possess—Christian habits and ideals.

Wise To Know The Poisonous Plants

Let's let Dad have a rest today. Don't call on him to taxi you any place. Let's just let him relax for one day and give the orders. What about that Dad?

Don't Get Alarmed

By request, I'm going to give you a list of poisonous plants but please don't go into a "Tizzy" over these. I have never heard of anybody being poisoned by any one of these plants but I do think it is wise to know about them. First is oleander. While they are unquestionably poisonous, there is really no danger from the plants in the garden because people aren't likely to try to eat them. When burned, the leaves and stems from oleander can give forth fumes that are also harmful.

Castor bean seed are poisonous. Even one could prove fatal, but I have never heard of a person becoming ill from them—have you? After all they are not appealing as a diet.

All parts of the larkspur are dangerous, especially the seed. Larkspur is commonly grown in north Louisiana, and because one does not go around eating the plant parts I'd not get upset over their poisonous parts.

Remember the poem "Mares eat oats and does eat oats and little lambs eat ivy too. Wouldn't you? Better not!" Leaves and berries of English Ivy contain a poison which will cause illness if several leaves are eaten. Since the plant has no signs of palatability, naturally one never worries about its poisons.

Elephant's ear has a poison which will cause a swelling and irritating in the mouth and throat —a needle pricking sensation.

Tung nut is poisonous as well as bulbs of amaryllis and narcissus families. The effect is irritating to the stomach and causes nausea, but it is not a deadly poison. Handling of the bulbs is perfectly safe, but better not get them mixed up in your onions and use one by mistake.

The leaves, stems and roots of Angels Trumpet can be fatal if enough of the plant is eaten—but here again is a plant that is not appealing from the gastronamic standpoint.

The drug opium is the product of one of the poppies — a plant that will thrive in Ouachita Parish. Actually it is against the law to grow them, but they reseed and bloom in gardens in north Louisiana. Now, if you started growing poppies by the acre—doubtless you would hear from the federal officers.

Of course you know the results of poison ivy. Also beware of mushrooms. The amateur is not capable of judging the edible ones from the poisonous varieties. Other poisonous plants are: Boxwood (the entire plant); dogwood (fruit slightly poisonous); leaves of foxglove; leaves of American holly and Yaupon; seeds of lupine; leaves of rhubarb.

Around Town

The South American Mammon is in bloom. There's a very beautiful one in Mrs. Samuel Rubins yard, 1122 North Third Street. Mrs. Brisco Trousdale, Forsythe also has this shrub in bloom and she is responsible for bringing the plant to Monroe. Mrs. Trousdale says, "As soon as the plant blooms, seed form. After I gather these seed for my friends, and then cut the old bloom stalk and very soon the plant blooms again. A common name for the plant is "Cry Baby." Mrs. Trousdale also has a nice collection of North American Mammon, but these are not in bloom today. I waited one week too long to call your attention to this.

Wanna' raise Artichokes? Just consult Susie Brown and her gardener, Walker. In fact Walker did the planting in March and in the picture you see the results. Susie's young daughter, Sue, gathered two of the artichokes last week, but found them not yet matured. This is not the Jerusalem Artichoke but the thorny type that is delicious boiled in salted water and served with butter sauce or stuffed.

I've been told by horticulturists that this type artichoke never matures in this climate. We'll wait and see. Note the beautiful large thistle like leaves. They are gray green in color. The plant deserves a place in the garden, even if its fruit never matures. They would at least be beautiful in flower arrangements. The close up picture shows the thorny type vegetable. The plant grows on the south side of the Brown home in a protected place. According to horticulture, the bush produces its best vegetable the second year and should be protected during the winter.

Dates

Your "Open House" TV programs for next week are: Safety in the Home given by West Carroll agents and guests on Monday; Tuesday, Mary Ella Blackiston will show you how to do fabric painting; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine will bring you the blue ribbon flower arrangements, then, Johnnie Cox from L. S. U. will propagate camellias and azaleas; Thursday, we'll bid good - bye to Mr. Roach and Friday is our marketing day.

See you next Sunday.

THORNY-TYPE ARTICHOKE that never matures in this climate was grown in the garden of Mrs. John S. Brown on Country Club road. Even if the fruit never ripens the plant would be beautiful in flower arrangements.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

For Garden Show Try Small Mums

The small flowered chrysanthemums make a wonderful show in the garden in the fall. They are tough plants that will put up with a great deal of neglect and still flower when their time comes around. If you will keep them fed and prevent them from suffering from droughts during the summer, however, they will put on a show that few other perennials can provide in September, October and November.

It is not too late right now to order and plant some of the new small flowered chrysanthemums. They will still flower for you because our season here is long and the autumn weather warm. There is one thing which we southerners must take into account with these fall flowers, however. The perennial dealers and breeders in the north are breeding for early varieties to beat the earlier cold weather up there, while we need late blooming types down here. So order the latest flowering varieties you can find in the Northern catalogues. We could do with even later blooming varieties in the south. If we had a good botanical garden in Dixie, we could get some work done on this.

The wonderful long autumn below Mason and Dixon's Line makes it possible for us to have hardy types of small chrysanthemums even into December. Ordinarily, we have some early frosts and then periods of ten days to two weeks before any appreciable frost again. It is worth while to protect through these first frosts in order to keep flowers going for another long period. Chrysanthemums are so hardy, however, that most of the small flowered types will not be damaged at all by first frosts. Look through your catalogues and find the varieties that are described as the October - flowering ones. If we plant the early bloomers, we must be prepared to water them and nurse them through the hot weather in September. It is good to have some of these varieties near the source of water. In old gardens, there are some very very late old fashioned button chrysanthemums which flower in November. These are not too showy by usual standards, but they will cheer you when everything else is long since frozen and gone, and these old flowers respond amazingly to fertilizer and water by growing larger and more abundant flowers. A few of them are well worth having at least in the cutting garden.

Chrysanthemums can be sprayed with any of the usual sprays we use for diseases on other plants. Their commonest troubles are aphids, thrips and fungus diseases, but anyone who grows ten rose bushes with all the spraying that must be done to them can easily keep right on spraying or dusting on the chrysanthemums and produce a fine crop of clean plants by fall that will put on a glorious show of blossoms. In late summer, chrysanthemums should be given a good feeding to prepare them for bud making. During their development in July and August, a week feeding every ten days will hurry them along. You can grow clumps of these flowers in the vegetable garden and transplant them with a ball of dirt just before they bloom right into the garden if you like.

Bulletin Supply Is Exhausted

Food Preservation Bulletins

The supply of bulletins on home freezing and making jelly, jam and preserves are completely exhausted for this season. Since we cannot supply bulletins we have mimeographed the information which you can use in preparing vegetables for freezing at home.

You may call for information on jams and preserves, but not for bulletins. We have only a limited supply on pickles and home canning. However, the extension office will give any information needed when you call on any of these subjects. It is necessary for those who have bulletins to be sure to take care of them and to share them with their neighbors.

Gardening

Want to see a good vegetable garden — well just drive out on highway 80, Vernon Lane, to Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Elers. It's an inspiration to look at these luscious vegetables.

Plans For Serving Pecan Growers Luncheon

The committee in charge of plans for lunch to be served Tuesday, June 21st is asking each club to notice closely what it is to provide for this luncheon to be served at State Pecan Growers' Association. Each of the following clubs are asked to prepare five pounds of potato salad: McClendon, Cypress, Cadeville, Swartz, Eureka, Lenwil and Oakaloosa. Each of the following clubs will prepare and bring ready to serve five pounds of snap beans: Bosco, Lakeview, Progressive, Claiborne, Drew, Chenier, Watson and Liberty. Clubs to supply bread are: Sterlington, Fairbanks, Better Homemakers, and Thrifty Homemaker. Each being five loaves with eighteen slices per loaf. Colony will provide and arrange to serve ice tea, sugar, etc. Woodlawn will supply wooden forks and spoons, 100 of each. Lamkin will bring napkins and paper cups (100 each). Mrs. W. A. Calloway of Logtown will purchase, bake and have sliced the hams. Logtown Club will supply one hundred paper plates. Each club is to have one member to help serve the lunch. The lunch will be served on the lawn at Stubbs plantation at the home occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn on highway 80 (Rayville highway). Those who do not know how to find this location will come to the agricultural building in West Monroe at 10:30 and go with the group to the Kuhn home.

The members of the planning committee are: Mrs. C. D. Henderson, Claiborne Club, chairman; Mrs. N. Williamson, Cypress; Mrs. W. A. Calloway, Logtown; Mrs. Guy Armstrong, Swartz Club; Mrs. L. J. Bowers, Colony Club; Mrs. Cleburne White, Cadeville Club, and Mrs. Fred Riser, president of Ouachita Home Demonstration Council. The money received for the lunches will go to the parish council.

Mrs. A. T. Stout and Mrs. E. M. Granberry, Logtown will provide three arrangements of flowers for the banquet to be held at Northeast State College for the State Pecan Growers' Association the night of June 21st.

For further information concerning this project, call Mrs. C. D Henderson 2-4805. The success of this lunch depends on each club doing its part. Don't fail this committee.

Hot Days Call For Mulching Garden Plants

The weather and soil are in ideal condition to mulch around your plants, vegetables and flowers. If you use straw, put four inches deep as a mulch. If you use sawdust, use only one inch deep as a mulch. Sawdust, especially rotted or partially decayed, is excellent mulch. The USDA bulletin recommends the addition of a complete fertilizer to sawdust used as a mulch as follows. To each bushel of sawdust mix 3 1-5 pounds of 5-10-5 and one pound of nitrate of soda before applying it as a mulch. Bulletins on sawdust uses are available. Be sure to mulch your plants now.

Time To Harvest Onions

Creole onions especially C - 5 strain keep well if harvested correctly. When tops of onions have fallen over the onions are ready to harvest. Dry the onions preferably in the shade and store them in a well ventilated place. By placing them on a wire rack more thorough curing is obtained.

No Hobby Day June 24th or 28th. The Hobby Day has been canceled which was planned.

COUTURE LOOK IN COTTON ACHIEVED BY ANNA MILLER

PATTERN A848 by Anna Miller

PROMINENT DESIGNER—It's the couture look in this lovely Anna Miller design that sets it apart as a Cotton Costume, and makes it the rich relative among the pretty but casual summer washables. The original, in an Indian print, takes its place as one of the truly important styles of the season (nipped-in waist, flaring skirt—all figure-flattering)! The famous Anna Miller touch is expressed in little details of great importance. For instance, the bow drawn through loop, which emphasizes the V break at the center of the square neck; the belt at the back of the full skirt! Anna Miller asked me to tell you to make it in a polished cotton, linen, pique — any fabric with a crisp feel, for the silhouette is both fluid and flaring.

Pattern A848 (dress and petticoat) is available in Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16 and 18. Size 16 dress requires 5¼ yards 35-inch fabric; ¾ yard 39-inch contrast for bow. Petticoat yardage given in pattern.

Send ONE DOLLAR for Pattern A848 to Morning World, Pattern Department, P.O. Box 20, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Please print plainly YOUR NAME, ADDRESS with ZONE, STYLE NUMBER and SIZE.

Peaches, Posies Show To Be Held In Ruston

The College Heights Garden Club of Monroe presented the beautiful flower show at the Garden Center this week. Mrs. C. E. McKenzie and Mrs. Lea Thompson served as judges. All blue ribbon in the horticulture division and two blue ribbons in the arrangement section. Horticulture blue ribbons awarded as follows: Mrs. Max Watts for dark red dahlia, and for pink yarrow, Mrs. W. W. Stevens for dark red snapdragons. Mrs. G. W. Levert was awarded first place in the arrangement section. Mrs. Levert created a lovely design of iris leaves gradually diminishing in size to a focal point of Hyperion daylily framed by philodendron leaves. Small green magnolia leaves strengthened the background of the design and provided visual weight on the right. A round plate of satiny brown Koawood was used for a container. Mrs. H. F. Shepard designed a beautiful Hogarth curve arrangement in colors of yellow green and yellow. Variegated euonymus foliage was used for the Hogarth line (the lazy S curve) yellow calendulas followed the linear pattern, their brown centers picking up the color of the container. Mrs. E. M. Baber was awarded third place. A shaded rose oblong container was used for a delightful line-mass arrangement in red - violet tints. Graceful spikes of spirea flowers established the line of the design. In the foreground rosy pink Rudbeckias filled in the design. Large leaf coleus in red-violet tints was used low in the arrangement and complemented the color of the container. Background color was a soft pink. The color harmony was most pleasing and the transition in forms most interesting.

Just received is the interesting schedule of the Peaches and Posies Flower Show to be held in Ruston on July 22 and 23 at the junior high school auditorium. The Louisiana Peach Festival Association in cooperation with the Lincoln Garden Council is presenting the show. The public is cordially invited to attend. The horticulture division is open to all flower growers. Some of the arrangement classes are also open to the public. You may see the schedule at the Garden Center or contact your garden club president. Be sure to make an entry in this show.

Have you heard about Malathion, the new insecticide that controls practically every major garden insect pest? Over 75 different insects, I believe, is the number. Plants & Gardens magazine, the Brooklyn Botanic Garden Record, gives the following description: "Malathion is a phosphate type of insecticide similar to parathion but less toxic to warm - blooded animals. It is considered to be less toxic to warm - blooded animals than is rotenone. It has been approved for packaging and use in small sizes for the home gardener. Malathion has a wide range of toxicity to many insects and to spider mites. Recent work indicates it is quite effective in killing the crawling stages and half - grown stages of many scale insects. This makes it a useful spray for scale insect control where the dormant spray has not been applied and also on flowers and other tender plants during the summer time. It may be necessary to make several spray treatments two or three weeks apart to obtain good control. Malathion insecticides are available in 50 per cent emulsions and 25 per cent wettable powders.

Concordia Country Agent To Attend NY Short Course

VIDALIA, June 18 (Special)—Joe W. Milby, Concordia parish county agent, has been selected as Louisiana's representative to the Cornell University annual short course on human relations and human development to be held in New York.

The short course, which will be held June 29-August 12 is held through the National 4-H Foundation and the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

Fifty scholarships are offered annually, one to each state and one each to United States Territories.

Mrs. Milby and their daughter, Nancy, will accompany the county agent to New York.

Only six per cent of all American families with incomes of more than $7,500 a year don't own an automobile. Twenty-six per cent of the families in this group own two or more.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Troubled With Insomnia? Try These Suggestions

Everyone needs a certain amount of sleep but many folks have a difficult time getting it. Either they have trouble going to sleep or sleep restlessly.

Then, of course, there are those lucky souls who drop asleep almost before their mouths close after saying the last word, and sleep as though dead until the alarm goes off the next morning.

When we sleep our breathing slows down and becomes deeper, our pulse slows also, and our blood pressure drops. This is the body's time for rest and repair.

Suggestions

If we have good health and only a reasonable share of the world's worries we should have no trouble sleeping. However, if you are one of the thousands of insomniacs as evidenced by the tremendous sale of sleeping pills, here are a few suggestions for you:

Physical surroundings can make a great difference in the quality of sleep you get. Too much noise, too hard or too soft a mattress, too much light, too little or too much fresh air, too light or too heavy covering, all of these can ruin your sleep.

Too little exercise is another main cause of sleeplessness. Many people fail to realize this. A brisk walk or gardening or golf or swimming, are splendid sleep inducers.

Try A Snack

A light, easily digested snack just before retiring helps many folks get to sleep. A few crackers and a glass of warm milk, a cup of soup or some other such item can be most effective. This draws blood from the brain to the stomach.

Then, too, be sure that you slow way down before you retire. Don't brake suddenly to a halt and expect to sleep right away. Take time to drop the cares and tensions of the day before going to bed.

Another rule — do not worry if you don't get to sleep right away. This expectancy and fear of not sleeping can be most damaging. Often people have a little period of restlessness and would have returned to their good sleeping habits except that they expected to have trouble luring shuteye.

If you cannot go to sleep get up and read a book or look out the window or play the radio softly. Yawn. Stretch. Relax. Do not remain in bed to toss and fret.

Probably the very best way in the world to get to sleep is to read an unexciting book which is supposed to be good for one.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Shuteye" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 34 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

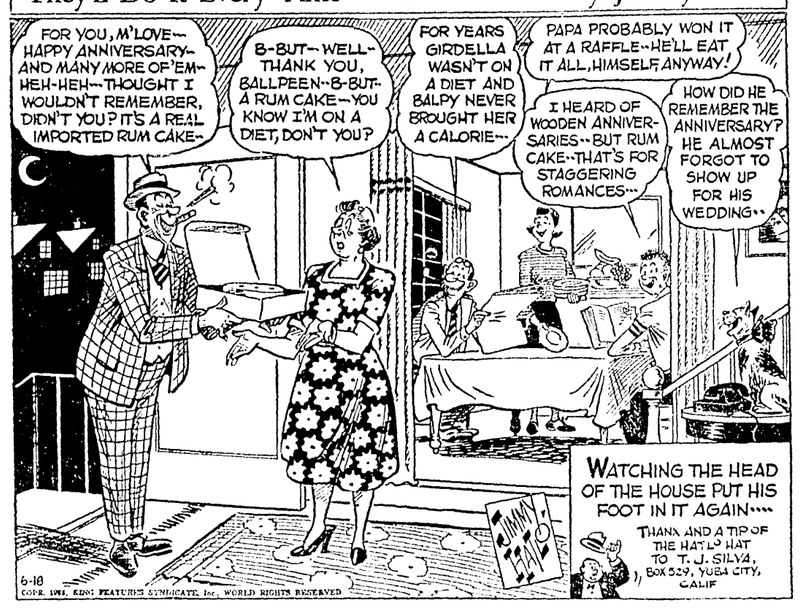
Eastland To Talk At Rayville Meet

VIDALIA, June 18 (Special) — Sen. James Eastland of Mississippi will discuss economics problems of the American farmer before members of the Northeast Louisiana Farm Bureau in Rayville Tuesday at 8 p.m.

D. S. Nelson, Ferriday, Concordia parish president of the bureau, has invited all farmers and farm bureau members to attend in order to receive first hand information on the cotton situation.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo



Concordia Co-Op Stockholders Set Annual Meeting

FERRIDAY, June 18 (Special) — The annual stockholders meeting of the Concordia Electrical Cooperative will be held here July 19, it has been announced by Eugene Taylor, manager.

About 1500 stockholders from Concordia, Catahoula, LaSalle, and parts of Grant parish are expected to attend. S. L. Winston, Jr., of Vidalia, is president.

The program will include a speech by Congressman Otto E. Passman. Music will be furnished by the Bethard Kirkland family of Wallace Ridge in Catahoula parish.

Town officials and merchants are cooperating in the event and stores will offer a number of outstanding gifts for the occasion.

The cooperative is working on a project to increase transmission lines in the area and to make the entire system heavier to take care of the load caused by expansion.

Taylor said that the greatest expansion was in the Concordia parish section, where land is being cleared by farmers in the area south of Vidalia, and in the Monterey section. The new backwater levee, which affords protection to this land from backwater for the first time in history, has given added incentive to farmers to cultivate land. Taylor said that many new farmers are moving into the area and are requiring electric service.

The electrical work is being done through a $650,000 loan from the Rural Electrification Administration.

OUR BIRD FRIENDS—5

The Redheaded Woodpecker

There are many kinds of woodpeckers in different parts of this country, but none is handsomer than the red head. He should make a fine addition to your collection. Color his head bright red. His back and breast are black and white as shown.

Woodpeckers have stout, chisel-shaped bills with which they can pound holes in trees to get out harmful worms and grubs. Two of their four toes point up and two down, so that they can cling tightly to tree trunks. They work hard for a living.

The red head is about as big as a robin and he isn't as common as he used to be. One reason is that red heads have never learned to be careful about crossing streets. Large numbers of them are killed each year by automobiles. In spite of their pretty colors they must be a little dumb.

In Hollywood

The Film Musical

By GENE KELLY
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, June 18 — Speaking of the dance, which is one of my favorite speaking pastimes, the question continues to arise, "Whither goest thou?" Or, as MGM probably would prefer me to say, "Quo Vadis"?

It's a question holding particular interest for me at this point. On and off during the past three years and several months — four other pictures have taken their share of time — I have been absorbed in a film project that, if nothing more were to be said for it, present the most dancing ever seen in one picture. Naturally, I am hopeful the public, and the critics, will find considerable more to say for it.

When "An American in Paris" was favored with an Academy Award a couple of years ago, it was evident the screen musical had come quite a distance. Such recognition only had been given this type of motion picture once previously. In that instance, "The Broadway Melody" was blessed with the novelty in 1929 of being a big musical fully in sound.

"An American in Paris" had no such contributing gimmick, unless you regard its seventeen-minute dramatized ballet as such. I like to think, however, that its Oscar was bestowed in recognition, not only of the picture's over-all merits, but also of the coming-of-age of the film musical. No longer is this the step-child of the motion picture industry, the lightly-regarded orphan in a home of dramatic acting. On the contrary, it has become accepted as being more demanding of more varied creative talents than any other motion picture form.

However, "Whither goest thou?" It was late in 1951, shortly after we finished "An American in Paris," that I became obsessed with the idea of a motion picture telling its story completely in dance, without a spoken word. I'll admit I was the most surprised hoofer in the business when MGM told me to go ahead. I'll also admit I promptly got cold feet. The result was a compromise. Instead of one story, I decided on three of approximately half an hour's duration each, put together to make one full-length feature.

Our producer, Arthur Freed, came up with the appropriate title, "Invitation to the Dance," and in January, 1952, we began developing the idea into something more tangible than just that. It wasn't until March, of 1955, that final work readied the picture for its preview unveiling before the public.

If the advertisements read, "More than three full years in the making," they'll only be partly right, however. Between the time I began some preliminary planning in a suburban cottage near Paris and the day I arrived back in Hollywood to film "Invitation's" third sequence (the first two were filmed in London), I left the picture on two occasions for non-dancing roles abroad in "The Davil Makes Three" and "Crest of the Wave."

Even filming the Hollywood-made sequence far from completed the project. A cartoon episode on the order of the dance with Jerry Mouse in "Anchors Aweigh," only longer and more complex, this sequence still required eight months' work in the studio's cartoon department for the mysterious process whereby its animation is achieved.

Meanwhile, my attention was turned to "Brigadoon." This in itself represented a good half year's effort. This finished, we started "It's Always Fair Weather" — and the cartoon department continued along with its work on "Invitation." We completed "Fair Weather" and — miracle of miracles — came the word that "Invitation" was ready for preview.

So, now I have taken typewriter in hand, primarily because I feel an urge to answer those stares turned my way whenever this long-lasting project has been mentioned. The looks that say, "All dancing? No dialogue? Do you think that's commercial? You must have rocks in your head!" I think the answer is probably yes to all of those unspoken utterances, including the one about the rocks.

In "Invitation," we fortunately were able to obtain several of the outstanding ballet artists of our time — including Tamara Toumanova, Igor Youskevitch and Belita —for rare film appearances.

Of tremendous importance to a dancing picture, of course, is its music. In this case, too, we have sought something out of the ordinary. Jacques Ibert, the celebrated French composer now living and working in Rome, composed the original music for our circus episode. It was recorded for us by The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra of London, conducted by John Hollingsworth of the Sadler's Wells.

Pope Receives Prelates' Report On Argentina

VATICAN CITY, June 18 (AP) — Pope Pius XII heard a first-hand report today on troubles of the Roman Catholic Church in Argentina and gave its hierarchy, clergy and people his blessing.

Two prelates expelled by the government of President Juan D. Peron brought the report to the Pope.

The expulsion was followed by quick proclamation of excommunication of all who had part in it, including Peron, and a few hours later by bloody fighting in Buenos Aires.

These sudden events, said the Vatican radio, had "profoundly upset Catholics and friends of liberty and human dignity throughout the world."

The two prelates, Msgr. Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Buenos Aires; and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Pablo Novoa, were hurried to the pontiff's side for an audience of almost an hour and a half.

The vatican's L'Osservatore Romano said the pontiff received the prelates "with most effusive amiability." It added:

"His Holiness vividly interested himself in their dolorous trials. In most comforting terms, he then reaffirmed his particular good will for the prelates, for the entire Argentine episcopate, clergy and faithful of that Catholic nation so singularly dear to him for so many reasons."

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

CHATTON
1. WHAT IMPORTANT THING SHOULD ENGAGED COUPLES KNOW ABOUT EACH OTHER BEFORE MARRIAGE? YOUR OPINION
2. WHY DO SOME PARENTS BELIEVE CHILDREN SHOULD BE SEEN AND NOT HEARD? YOUR OPINION
3. DO FAT PERSONS RESENT JOKES ON THEMSELVES AS MUCH AS SKINNY ONES? YES NO

Answer to Question No. 1

1. What each one wants. It's not what people need, but what they want that makes them happy. For instance: a wife wants pretty things around the house. Husband says, "What do you want with such silly gee-gaws?" To her, they are spiritual inspiration. A man wants good food and comforts. Some wives never learn this simple fact. Satisfying people's wants — not needs — is almost the whole art of selling and leadership, as shown in our new booklet, "How To Persuade People." Nonprofit, 20c (coin only) and self - addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Partly because they are just foolish. They fear what the kids might say in company. Johnny might say, "Pop says we're awful poor," "Mom hates to have Pop go around all day Sunday in his suspenders," or, "Mom needs a permanent, but we can't afford it." They don't realize how important it is to develope a child's personality, to teach him to converse, and to develop his ability to get along with people.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. At least, the extensive ten-year research by psychologist W. H. Sheldon on the relationship between body-build and temperament strongly indicated that people with little or no girth control enjoy far more "belly laughs" than thin people, though the laugh is at their own expense. So, better play your jokes on a fat man or — uh — a woman of charmingly generous proportions, if you don't want your head cracked.

THIS ISLAND EARTH—Faith Domergue and Rex Reason run in terror as they are pursued by Mutants, terrifying creatures from another planet, as they try to escape to earth. The scene from Universal-International's thrilling Technicolor science-fiction adventure, "This Island Earth," in which the pair co-star with Jeff Morrow, is soon to be at the Jim theater.

The bidding:

South, 1 diamond; West, pass; North, 1 spade; East, pass.

South, 2 no trump; West, pass; North, 3 no trump; East, pass.

South, pass; West, pass.

Opening lead: Queen of hearts.

Extravagance in the use of intermediate cards accounts for the loss of a great many hands. Tens, nines and even eights are not always accorded the respect to which they are entitled. Many a trick has been squandered because of an anxiety on the part of a defender to signal with a card that he could ill afford to spend. An example of sound economy in the matter of intermediate cards is provided by today's hand.

The bidding was right out of the book. South's jump rebid of two no trump was well justified by the texture of his hand and the point count of 20. A momentary digression here may be in order to point out a widespread abuse; that is: The indiscriminate employment of jump two no trump rebids when opener holds only slight values above his opening strength. Such a call normally requires 19 or 20 points. There is a reluctance on the part of many players to rebid one no trump when some excess values are held for fear that responder will interpret this as weakness. Such apprehension is uncalled for. A player who has opened a bid has already established the fact that he has a good hand which responder must not lose sight of, though mild rebids are made by opener. With this thought in mind, the one who has opened the bidding should refrain from making doubtful jumps on the second round.

With the opening lead of the queent of hearts, declarer could see that he had his work cut out for him. There was the diamond suit to develop and the club finesse to take, and dummy was rather shy of entries. A count of the assets made it clear that the club finesse would have to be relied upon and that two tricks would have to be developed in diamonds.

The normal procedure would be to play in the hope that East held the ace of diamonds, and make two leads toward the king-queen, but entries were not available for the purpose. There was another play that offered equal chance of success. That depended upon the 50-50 chance that West held the jack of diamonds. Declarer, therefore, led a low diamond to dummy at trick two. West was obliged to win with the jack and cleared the hearts. Another diamond set up the remainder of the suit, and West cashed his long hearts for the third and fourth defensive tricks, but that concluded the East - West boom.

Declarer was not even subjected to the mental anguish of the final finesse of the queen of clubs, for at the end, East, in order to hold on to the spade stopper, had to let go his clubs.

BANS 'SHORT SHORTS'

CHARLESTON, S. C., June 17—UP—Rear Adm. G. C. Crawford banned "short shorts" and abbreviated bras at the Charleston naval base Friday but said Navy wives and daughters can wear pedal pushers, slacks and Bermuda shorts. All with blouses, of course.

The period of gestation in kangaroos is about three weeks, but the young are very poorly developed at birth, requiring a period in the marsupial pouch before they are capable of much independent movement.

Engineer Corps Workers Awarded 20-Year Emblems

VIDALIA, June 18 (Special)—Hugh Oliver, Lonnie W. Wheeler, and William F. Linton, all employees of the Vidalia Area Office of the Vicksburg District Corps of Engineers, have been presented 20 year service emblems by Francis N. Geddes, area engineer.

These emblems were presented in recognition of 20 years of service with the Corps of Engineers who observed Engineer Day Thursday throughout the United States.

Oliver is presently chief of a survey party moving back and forth in connection with channel improvement and levee construction in the area. Wheeler is an inspector on the concrete mattress casting operations at Vidalia.

Linton is chief inspector on the Delta Louisiana Casting Field and is in charge of the Lobdell field office.

Their work with the Corps of Engineers in the past 20 years has carried them into parts of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Arkansas.

13 Tech Students Make Straight 'A'

RUSTON, June 18 (Special)—Thirteen Louisiana Tech students, all carrying scholastic loads of 15 college hours or more, made straight "A" averages in the spring semester according to reports from offices of the deans today.

Several others scored perfect averages but were taking less than the normal 15 semester hours of work. Others with normal course schedules lacked only a few points of reaching the straight "A" scores.

Of the 13 students reported with "A" averages for full loads, two are women and 11 are men. The 13 students, with their hometowns, their freshman classification and major subjects, are as follows:

[illegible] Kraus, Shreveport, Junior, [illegible]; Jean H. Pitts, Dr. Pecan, junior, [illegible] engineering; James Dale Quitman, junior, mathematics-engineering; Jack T. Gustafson, El Dorado, junior, mathematics-engineering; George Hale Bass, Jonesboro, junior, English; Mary Miller Reed, Farmerville, sophomore, mathematics, education; Mrs. Marie Roberts, Minden, junior, mathematics, education; James T. Stanley, Shreveport, freshman, preprofessional; Miss Mary Stearns, Dr. Pepper, [illegible] engineering; Norman R. Vaughn, Monroe, junior, mathematics-engineering; Ray E. Bowers, [illegible] engineering; and [illegible] engineering.

Armed Service

Two Monroe soldiers recently completed a week of summer training at Fort Crockett, Tex.

Cpl. Henry L. Baker, 27, son of Mrs. Carrie Baker, 812 Bexely, is a cook in headquarters and service battery of the 1st armored division's 68th field artillery battalion at Fort Hood, Tex. He entered the army in 1945.

Pfc. Billie R. Smith, 22, son of E. E. Smith, 509 Whillis st., is a driver with the 68th battalion's battery A. He has been in the army since January 1954.

Cadets William J. Wafer, 19, and E. T. Holloway, 24, of Monroe, recently were named to the dean's list for the second semester of the 1954-55 academic year at the U. S. military academy at West Point, N. Y.

Appointment to the list signifies outstanding achievement and proficiency in academic subjects.

Cadet Wafer, son of Mrs. Willie M. Wafer, 3808 Gerald st., received his appointment to West Point from Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana. Wafer is a 1954 graduate of Ouachita Parish High School.

Cadet Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Holloway, 208 Cole ave., received his appointment to West Point from Rep. Otto E. Passman. Holloway is a 1947 graduate of Lucille High School.

Flower Show List Being Prepared

FERRIDAY, June 18 (Special)—Concordia parish's fall flower show promises some interesting arrangements according to a list now being prepared for the parish fair catalogue.

The theme is "A Carnival of Flowers." Among the arrangements to be shown are the following: "The Fall Lady," "Japanese Acrobats," "The Fire Eater," and "Midgets."

"The Fat Lady" will show a mass arrangement of fresh flowers. "The Fire Eater" is a symetrical arrangement crossing vivid colors. Mrs. A. E. Torres, Ferriday, is flower show chairman.

The show is annually in October in conjunction with the state fair.

MOSES and Miriam
IF MIRIAM EVER ENTERED THE ROYAL PALACE TO SEE HER BABY BROTHER, MOSES, AFTER AMENHOTEP IV BECAME PHARAOH, SHE WAS PROBABLY STOPPED BY A GUARD AND DRAGGED BEFORE THE NEW RULER — IT IS FORBIDDEN A SLAVE TO DARE ENTER THE SACRED PRECINCTS OF THE PALACE WITHOUT PERMISSION.
OH GOLDEN GOD OF THE NILE, THIS MISERABLE SLAVE GIRL CLAIMS SHE STOLE INTO THE PALACE TO SEE HER BROTHER--OBVIOUSLY, SHE LIES!
MAYBE NOT... COULD IT BE THE CHILD I'VE HEARD MY SISTER IS KEEPING?
MAY THE SON OF RE SHINE KINDLY UPON ME, IT...IT IS!
HMMM... SUMMON MY SISTER HERE--AND BRING THE CHILD, TOO!
NOW THE PRINCESS DEFENDS MIRIAM...
YES, MY BROTHER, I DID GIVE MIRIAM PERMISSION TO COME HERE TO VISIT MY SON, MOSES.
BUT THIS GIRL SAYS THE CHILD IS HER BROTHER!
HOW CAN HE BE HER BROTHER WHEN HE IS MY SON?!
HE IS MY OWN SON... AND I HAVE PROCLAIMED HIM AS SUCH TO ALL THE GODS OF EGYPT!
I SEE.... BUT THE CHILD DOESN'T LOOK LIKE AN EGYPTIAN... HE IS OF DIFFERENT BLOOD. BUT IF YOU CLAIM HIM, THEN HE SHALL BE A PRINCE!
BUT, OH HIGH-BORN BULL OF THE NILE, IT IS THE LAW THAT ALL HEBREW BABY BOYS MUST BE KILLED!
THAT WAS MY FATHER'S LAW... BUT I SHALL CHANGE THAT LAW IMMEDIATELY... JUST AS I SHALL DESTROY ALL THE FALSE GODS IN THIS LAND!
LET ALL EGYPT HEAR AND KNOW THIS... THERE IS BUT ONE GOD... THE LORD AND CREATOR OF THE UNIVERSE, AND ALL THAT EXISTS! AND HE IS GOD OF LOVE AND UNDERSTANDING — GIVING TO MAN ALL THAT MAN HAS NEED OF!
BIBLICAL SCHOLARS ARE NOT ABSOLUTELY CERTAIN, AND MANY EMINENT AUTHORITIES DISAGREE ON JUST WHICH PHARAOH REIGNED WHEN MOSES WAS A BABY... BUT IT IS A PROVEN HISTORICAL FACT THAT AMENHOTEP IV (AKHNATON) DESTROYED THE PAGAN GODS OF EGYPT DURING HIS REIGN AND PROCLAIMED THE EXISTENCE OF ONLY ONE GOD — AND MOST ARCHEOLOGISTS PLACE AKHNATON'S REIGN AT JUST ABOUT THE TIME THAT MOSES MUST HAVE BEEN A BABY — IS IT SO DIFFICULT, THEN, TO BELIEVE THAT DIVINE GUIDANCE MAY HAVE PLACED THE BABY MOSES IN THE PALACE OF THIS PHARAOH, THE ONLY PLACE IN EXISTENCE WHERE HE COULD RECEIVE THE EDUCATION AND TRAINING NECESSARY TO FIT HIM FOR HIS FUTURE WORK — THAT OF SPIRITUAL LEADER IN THE WORSHIP OF GOD... TRULY GOD MOVES IN MYSTERIOUS WAYS, HIS WONDERS TO PERFORM!

It's that DIAL feeling –

you never worry about odor!

More than a feeling, it's a fact: with Dial Soap you never worry about perspiration odor. You see, normal perspiration has no odor until skin bacteria go to work on it. And ordinary soaps just can't get rid of bacteria effectively. But Dial Soap does. It removes up to 95% of these odor-causers, because Dial is the one leading soap with AT-7 (Hexachlorophene). There's nothing else as good for keeping odor away. Dial's AT-7 clings to your skin, so it protects you all day—and several days if need be. That's why folks who use Dial every day say they just don't feel as clean with any other soap. Dial stops odor before it starts.

Aren't you glad you use Dial Soap?

MERCY SAKES! DO YOU KEEP ALL THAT MONEY IN OLD SHOE BOXES, UNCLE LUCKY?
BUT YOU SAID THEY CONTAINED ONLY ODDS AND ENDS.
WELL, I PLUMB FORGOT, NEPHEW.
THERE MUST BE MILLIONS HERE!
IT'S NOT SAFE CARRYING ALL THAT MONEY AROUND, UNCLE LUCKY.
I KNOW, BUT WHEN I BURY IT, I FORGET WHERE I BURIED IT.
THEN PUT IT IN A BANK.
BUT I ALWAYS FORGET WHICH BANK I'VE PUT IT IN.
IT'S FOR YOUR OWN GOOD, UNCLE LUCKY. WE STRONGLY ADVISE YOU TO PUT YOUR MONEY IN A BANK.
WELL, I DUNNO. I SEEM TO REMEMBER THAT YOUR ADVICE ALWAYS COST ME MONEY.
BUT EVERYBODY KNOWS A BANK IS SAFER THAN A SHOE BOX.
MAYBE SO, BUT YOU'RE SUCH A DANGED HOODOO I FEAR THE WORST.
THAT'S RIDICULOUS! JUST SIT DOWN IN THIS CHAIR, UNCLE LUCKY, AND LET'S TALK IT OVER.
THIS CHAIR'LL DO.
NO, NO! TAKE THE ROCKER, UNCLE LUCKY. IT'S MUCH MORE COMFORTABLE.
WELL, OKAY, IF YOU INSIST.
OOPS!
ON SECOND THOUGHT, I'M GONNA BURY MY MONEY.

WELL, IF YA LOST YER KEY, UNCLE WILLIE. WHY DON'TCHA LIGHT YERSELF A MATCH AND LOOK FOR IT?
SPLENDID IDEA. SPLENDID. LEND ME ONE, KAYO.
TUT-TUT. THIS MATCH WON'T LIGHT.
FUNNY. IT DID A MINUTE AGO.
WHAT'S THAT? MUFFLED VOICES. SOMEBODY PROWLIN' AROUND BACK OF TH' HOUSE...OH, DEAR! WHY DID WILLIE GO TO LODGE TONIGHT AND LEAVE ME AND KAYO ALONE.
HA! IT'S SO DARK I CAN'T SEE, BUT THAT SOUNDS LIKE I HIT ONE OF THEM.
OW! I'VE HAD A STROKE. I CAN'T SEE! I'M BLIND!
THAT'S WILLIE'S VOICE!!!?!
WHAT IS THIS? I CAN'T GET IT OFF.
TRY TURNIN' IT AROUND. MAYBE YOU GOT IT ON BACKWARD... TH' BOW'S IN TH' BACK.
I'LL NEVER FORGIVE MYSELF FOR THIS.
NO. IT WON'T COME OFF THAT WAY, KAYO.
ZOK!
THERE!
NOW TAKE THIS TABLE.
DON'T YOU DARE! WILLIE, I'LL SCREAM!
WEAR THIS WHENEVER YOU GO OUT NIGHTS. IT'LL SAVE YOU A LOTTA KNOCKS ON TH' KNOB.

Big 3 Express Hope Conferences To Bring Accord

SAN FRANCISCO— UP — Diplomats of the world's great owers met here Monday on he 10th birthday of the Unit-d Nations, hopeful they could ase the cold war in the same pirit in which they made lans to preserve peace 10 ears ago.

The western Big Three foreign inisters unanimously expressed ne hope that their meetings with n unusually cordial V. M. Molo-ov, Soviet foreign minister, would roduce "something concrete."

Top-level representatives from early every major nation on the lobe were assembled for the his-oric anniversary observance which as to begin officially at 4 p.m. st with a major policy address y President Eisenhower.

But the series of informal con-erences which were expected to roduce the most important results uring the week-long meeting al-eady were underway.

British Foreign Secretary Harold lacMillan, French Foreign Minis-er Antoine Pinay, Molotov and Henry Cabot Lodge, United States mbassador to the UN conferred at inner Sunday night.

The subject of their talks was ot disclosed but they presumably egan laying the groundwork for he Big Four "summit" meeting mong heads of state of the U.S., reat Britain, France and the So-iet Union at Geneva next month.

A similar session among Molotov, lacMillan, Pinay and U.S. Secre-ary of State John Foster Dulles as scheduled for Monday night.

We don't expect to settle roblems of the world in a few ays," MacMillan said. "But we o hope to open up a new phase f diplomacy."

Pinay said he agreed with Mac-illan that the diplomatic atmos-here created by Russia's friendly new look" was "encouraging" and id he hopes the Big Four talks ere "will bring us one more step n the direction of peace."

"I think these meetings are the eginning of a series of more se-ious talks," Pinay added.

Dulles was more cautious in his nalysis of Molotov's new amia-ility. "I haven't seen him here o I don't want to pass judg-ent on the sincerity of his friendli-ess ," the secretary of state said.

12th Polio Case Reported Monday

Max Gerald Kelley, one-year-old n of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kelley, 4 South McGuire, Monroe, is Ouachita Parish's 12th victim of ano this year.
